Four Ways of Looking at the Election

Social Credit Victory Seen

Transfer of Votes Expected to Give New Group Largest Majority in B.C.

A minority Social Credit government for British Columbia is a definite prospect today as counting of ballots in 10 undecided ridings continued.

The S.C.s have elected 15 members and lead in two seats. C.C.F. have elected 14 and lead in six, but the pattern of alternative vote transfers indicates the Social Credit Party is practically certain to make some gains as the counting progresses.

Only a slight switch will give the S.C.s the largest group, although not an overall majority. Vancouver-Burrard riding where S.C. candidates, running second, made gains on C.C.F.

Party standings in the B.C. election at press time:
Party	Elected	Leading
C.C.F.	14	6
Social Credit	15	2
Liberal	6	0
Conservative	2	2
Labor	1	0
Totals	38	10

leaders in second and third counts, holds the key to the election.

In addition, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer has suggested that the six Liberals elected and the Conservatives (two elected, two leading) might form a "loose grouping" with the Social Credit to assure the continuance of government.

This would not be a Coalition. Social Credit would name all the cabinet ministers, but the remnants of the old-line parties would support the S.C. government in vital measures in the Legislature, and thus keep them in power.

Such appears to be the probable course the political picture will follow. It might continue for a year or two until some important changes were attempted by the government and Liberals could not support them, and would force an election by defeating the government.

SEEK SECOND VOTE
Meanwhile, in Calgary, Solon Low, national Social leader, said chances of his party forming a government in British Columbia will be improved when a second mandate is sought from the people.

He felt a second election would result in a better showing by his party.

However, it will be two, and possibly three weeks before the formal steps are taken. Premier Johnson's caretaker government will remain until then.

First the final counting of ballots must be completed in the huge Point Grey riding where over 52,000 votes were cast. This will take 10 days to two weeks. After that, a legal period of 10 days is needed for recount applications before an official election result can be announced.

If the counting had been one-sided Premier Johnson would resign immediately, but because of the closeness of the fight between Socials and C.C.F., he may not be in a position to make his recommendation until the last vote is counted in the last riding.

LIBERALS FOR VICTORIA

The latest seats decided were the three in Victoria where Liberals made a clean sweep and North Vancouver which went Liberal after alternative ballots had to be transferred six times. It was the only place in the province where this had to be done. Reeve M. E. Snowden of West Vancouver edged out Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, C.C.F., in the sixth count.

Meanwhile the political parties are making their individual plans for the future.

Both Liberal leader Johnson and Conservative leader Herbert Anscomb are expected to retire from politics to private life, though neither has made a formal announcement yet.

Leading Conservatives will meet in Vancouver to discuss their situation and Liberals are slated to meet here July 13.

Spotlight is on the Social Credit party which will choose its leader, and probable Premier, at a Vancouver meeting July 15.

Here are the latest counts in the two Vancouver ridings of Burrard and Point Grey where the issue will be settled whether the Social Credit Party or the C.C.F. will be called upon to form B.C.'s new government.

The C.C.F. Party, with 14 members elected, six leading, has a slight edge now over the Socials, with 15 and two, but the close fight in these contests for five seats in the House may well change the picture.

The pattern of vote transfers in other ridings indicate the Socials are almost certain to take the lead in one Burrard seat on the fourth count, and possibly in both. A fifth count will be needed for the final decision.

A two-seat victory for Socials in Burrard will settle the issue, assuring them of 19 against the C.C.F.'s 18.

But even if Socials get only one Burrard seat they can still come out on top by taking the Point Grey seats away from two Conservatives now leading. The pattern of vote transfers indicate this is also a good possibility. It would give Socials 20 and C.C.F. 19.

Cool, Confident Taft Claims Sufficient Votes for Victory

Compiled from C.P., A.P., U.P. Dispatches

CHICAGO, Ill., July 7.—Although Chicago's weather recorded a blistering 100, 12,000 delegates, torn with emotion, jam-packed the convention hall here today at what was shaping up to be the hottest Republican party convention in 40 years.

Fanning the sparks were:

1. The fight between Ohio's Sen. Robert Taft and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination.
2. Bitterness engendered through Eisenhower forces claim that pro-Taft delegates were engineered.
3. Pennsylvania's crucial election, in the first direct test of sentiment, voted today to cast 57 votes in support of the Eisenhower-backed move to amend the rules of the Republican convention on delegate credentials. Only 11 delegates lined up against the proposal.

Meanwhile:

1. Senator Taft, cool, smiling and confident, has told reporters that he has the necessary pledged delegates to win—604—and some to spare.
2. General Eisenhower, on the other hand, was on record as not knowing how many delegates were pledged to him, and apparently not caring. He seemed to be depending on a swing of sentiment created by resentment at what he describes as old Republican machine tactics to keep delegates supporting him out of the voting positions in the convention hall.

As the convention opened the Associated Press tabulation credited Taft with 539 of the necessary 604 delegates, and Eisenhower with 425.

WILL BE FAIR

In a speech prepared for delivery at the opening of the party's 25th national convention he said: "This will be a fair convention. The only steamroller in this amphitheatre will be the determined will of a majority of the 1,206 delegates. The chair will recognize any delegate who seeks recognition."

This was an obvious reference to charges which have spun out of the whirlwind fight for the Republican presidential nomination by chief rivals Taft and Eisenhower. "But after this convention makes its decision," he added, "there can be no room for disunity in the Republican party. We must close ranks against the common foe."

Gabrielson said he found it unnecessary to attack the Democratic party because, "the Democratic party has condemned itself by preaching peace and waging war, by waste and squandering of the people's money; by winking and blinking at the menace of Communism, and by shameful corruption of the federal government."

Other presidential candidates had little to hope for unless the senator and general knock each other out. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois; Gen. Douglas MacArthur, tonight's keynote speaker; Sen. William F. Knowland, the rising Republican star of the west, were dark horse entries favored in the betting over avowed candidates Warren and Harold E. Stassen.

MacArthur still figured as a likely vice-presidential nominee with Taft. Knowland and Dirksen were being mentioned as possible Eisenhower running mates. But with the convention just getting underway, the vice-presidential balloting seemed a long way off.

CONVICT SHOT

Fresh Mutiny

At Jackson;

Demands Met

JACKSON, Mich., July 7 (AP)—One convict was shot Sunday night as 140-odd wild and rioting prisoners grabbed two guards as hostages, threatening them with death, and wrecked their cell block at Southern Michigan Prison.

It was in this same prison, the world's largest, that a bloody mutiny and riot in April brought death to one convict, wounds to eight others and close to $1,000,000 worth of damage. The leaders of the new outbreak were among those being disciplined by solitary confinement for their participation in the April rioting.

Now as then, the rioters had complaints. And again, prison authorities agreed to these demands.

Both hostage guards were freed unharmed, but only after state police troopers had been withdrawn from the cell block. The rioters shouted they'd throw the guards off a fifth-story cell block balcony to a concrete floor below if they weren't.

But in their first move into the cellblock of shouting, cursing, knife and club-wielding convicts, the troopers fired an estimated five to 10 shotgun blasts.

Convict Carl Bradford, 24, serving one to four years for theft, fell wounded.

The new rioting followed complaints from prisoners held on two lower floors of cellblock nine since April 21, without dining room, yard exercising or visitor privileges.

Deputy Seymour Gilman promised the mutinous group that its members would have all three privileges restored immediately, but that they would eat and exercise in small groups at first.

HEARD TO BOAST
Some of the prisoners were heard to boast: This is the biggest darn riot in Canada.

As police and guards regained control in "C" yard, they moved out anything that could be used as a weapon.

There was no immediate explanation for the outbreak. Officials said the food was good and the men had no known complaints. The riot recalled recent similar disturbances in United States prisons.

Water was doled out to the prisoners late Sunday but there was no ration of food. The situation lent ironic emphasis to the comment of Superintendent Wright that the prisoners were hurting no one but themselves. They had destroyed their bedding and enough food for 3,500 meals, the institution's daily average.

At one stage of the battle the convicts gained complete control of the building. They armed themselves with knives and cleavers seized from the kitchen, pipes from demolished plumbing fixtures, scissors, lengths of wood and bricks.

TURN OFF WATER
In Sunday's early dawn, with streams of water from fire hoses playing on the milling rioters in the central courtyard, one prisoner yelled: "We're packing it up. Turn off the water."

Superintendent Wright shouted back: "All right. Put your hands behind your heads and line up."

That signalled the end of the riot.

Chairs, toilet bowls and windows were smashed, furnishings destroyed, piles of mattresses and blankets set afire.

Scores of other rioters broke into the kitchen to cause more damage.

Superintendent Wright took 26 guards and went to the rescue of six of his men who were trapped, four of them in the kitchen.

Two Canadians In Bisley Tie
BISLEY, Eng., July 7 (Reuters)—Two members of the Canadian rifle team will take part in a tie shoot Tuesday after service rifle events.

In the "kneeling" competition, seven shots at 300 yards from a kneeling or sitting position, there was a tie with 33 out of a possible 35 between Maj. T. W. Hall, New Westminster Regiment; E. L. R. J. Hardyman, R.A.F., and Cpl. B. R. Creasey, R.A.F.

In the difficult 500-yard shoot for the B.S.A. prize, Cpl. W. S. Marshall, 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade, put all seven shots into the bull, to find afterwards that his highest possible score had been equaled by S.S.M. S. S. Taylor, Royal Engineers.

'Terror Reign' Exaggerated
TOKYO, July 7 (Reuters)—The independent newspaper Shimbun reported today that an alleged "reign of terror" by British Commonwealth troops in southern Japan was exaggerated by other newspapers.

The newspaper said its reporter found in a private investigation that of four alleged rapes by Commonwealth soldiers three of the complaints were made by prostitutes.

It added that minor offenses during troops' sprees had been described as "crimes."

The reporter said: "The average citizen in Kure (the British Commonwealth base) has no fear after dark."

1,000 Inmates Stage Unexplained Mutiny

GUELPH, Ont., July 7 (CP)—Police armed with truncheons and axe handles today cleared a compound occupied by a hold-out group of 1,000 prisoners who, during the weekend, staged a 12-hour riot at the Ontario reformatory.

Fifty provincial police officers herded the men from "C" yard after Superintendent Gerald Wright ordered the unruly group to line up. The prisoners formed four ranks and placed their hands behind their necks in the fashion of prisoners-of-war.

The superintendent warned that any man who moved toward the centre of the yard would be fired on from the rooftops by guards with riot guns.

Sullen, weary prisoners remained in "B" yard but they were quiet.

(The Toronto Star said today in a dispatch from Guelph that an estimated 600 of the 931 prisoners participated in the riot, not all of their own volition, it says one prisoner, who gave signs of bolting a mob, was picked up and hurled into the flaming kitchen and a guard said the rioters were ready to roast the man alive "as an example of what rats would get.")

Guards were quoted as blaming "mollycoddling" of prisoners for the outbreak. They said removal of the threat of the strap, now applied only when sanctioned personally by the minister, has ended effective discipline.

Some of the prisoners were heard to boast: This is the biggest darn riot in Canada.

NEW OUTBREAK AT CONCORD

CONCORD, Mass., July 7 (AP)—Apparently angered over the banning of church services, Sunday movies, visitors and yard privileges, hundreds of inmates in the Concord Reformatory—scene of a three-hour riot last Tuesday—Sunday night broke windows, smashed bulbs and shouted so loudly they could be heard more than a quarter of a mile away.

Although prison officials said they were not worried about the commotion because all the men were locked in their cells, a double guard was maintained at the reformatory where some 680 prisoners are housed.

Reds Appoint New Envoy To Romania
MOSCOW, July 7 (AP)—The recall of Russia's long-time ambassador to Romania and his replacement by the man who has been ambassador to Czechoslovakia were announced here today.

Anatoly Lavrentiev, 48, a career diplomat and one of the most important men in the Soviet diplomatic corps, has been named to the Romanian post, succeeding Serge Kaytaradze, who held the job since 1946.

In Lavrentiev's place in Prague, Russia has named Alexander Bogomolov, long a diplomat, who served as envoy to the Czech exile government in London during the war.

This was the latest in a series of Russian diplomatic shifts involving at least three deputy foreign ministers. Both Lavrentiev and Bogomolov have been deputy foreign ministers, and both, like Andrei Gromyko, recently sent to London, have been reduced of their foreign ministry duties.

The recall of Kaytaradze follows quickly after the announcement that Ana Pauker, Romanian Communist leader who was shorn of her duties. She was reported to have been a close friend of Kaytaradze.

CANADIAN $1 HITS 104 1-8 AT NEW YORK
NEW YORK, July 7 (CP)—The Canadian dollar, moving closer to its all-time high, today was quoted at $1.04 1-8 in terms of United States currency.

The dollar, which has been rising steadily since last year, was quoted by foreign-exchange dealers as 9-16 cents higher than its close in New York last Thursday. The market was closed Friday and Saturday.

The all-time high of the Canadian dollar is $1.05 which it held briefly during a period of fluctuation in 1933.

Bankers generally agree that the climb is the result of heavy movement of capital from the United States into Canada.

SLO-MO-SHUN REACHES 178

Compulsory Training 'Imperative Need'

BY ROY THORSEN

Times Staff Representative

VERNON, July 7.—Compulsory training for the youth of Canada has become an imperative need to keep the army's reserves at peak strength.

Brig-Gen. J. A. Clarke, C.M.G., D.S.O., former commander of the Vancouver Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, is outspoken on this subject. A Queen's Counsel, he is current president of the Canadian Bar Association.

His comment came in an interview after he inspected reserve troops in training at this attractive Okanagan city's massive army camp, with his son, Brig. Don M. Clarke, E.D., commander of the 15th Reserve Brigade, and Brig. Sherwood Lett, colonel-commandant of the Royal Canadian Infantry Corps.

"The reserves are the 'guts' of this country in the time of emergency," said the First World War commander of the 7th Brigade in France. He was sad to learn that British Columbia's four major infantry regiments—The Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's), from Victoria, Seaforths, New Westminster Regiment and Rocky Mountain Rangers could muster fewer than 250 men for this summer camp for practical training.

He considered the reserve army Canada's best life guard should trouble come.

"Canada is spending immense amounts of money each year for defense of the country, but much of what is being used should be earmarked for building up the reserves, so that we will be in better condition to meet whatever may come," the veteran soldier said.

"Our reserves are now more important than they have ever been. In past wars we've been fortunate in having someone else (England) handling the brunt of matters when war broke out and therefore had time to build ourselves to a wartime footing," said General Clarke.

"The everyday advance of science in producing more terrible weapons may mean that next time we will not have time to prepare. Therefore it is important that we guard against it by making the reserves as strong as possible," he said.

However, the general frankly admitted that quality of the men he had seen in the camp was of the best.

Lieut-Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., did not pull his punches in regard to apathy toward the reserve army.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

I read somewhere that Lloyd Percival, who wasn't chosen Canadian Olympic track and field coach—and isn't griping about it, he says—has a scheme to make Olympic winners in Canada. If he can sell a bill of Eisenhowerism and national socialization of amateur athletics to democratic Canadians, he would operate a system of intensive regional and Canada-wide training that might produce good international competitors.

Something might happen to the ideals of sport in the meantime, if there are still ideals. But why should Canada worry too much about the Olympics when something far more serious has come to light.

The fair name of Canadian womanhood, or the name of fair Canadian womanhood, has been reproached. When the boys with the tape measures and the roving eyes picked Miss Universe in Long Beach, Calif., last week, Canada's entry didn't even place.

Here we are, with the prettiest girls in the world, and the young lady from Toronto, practically a neighbor of Percival's, scarcely rates mention as an also-ran in international competition. Percival should worry about the Olympics. Now surely this is a point of national honor. Why didn't we win? Where did we fall down? Haven't we the best looking girls? Or were the judges crooked?

Obviously it's up to Canada to produce a model so far ahead of the rest of the beauties that even a biased bench—that's the judges, nothing to do with the model—will have to admit our superiority.

National Service—But Selective

And we'll do it this way: First of all, we'll call on all the good-looking girls in Canada to dedicate themselves, as a national service, to beauty contests. They do it, anyhow, but for a limited following, and too often relax training rules as the Lohengrin chord quavers into silence in the church.

If, in the unlikely event that we haven't a natural world champion, we'll have one created. That may be a bit difficult. When Hollywood looked for a living model of the Petty girl a few years ago, they found a reasonable facsimile. Only her muscles were so misplaced she couldn't walk. Our challenger will at least have to strut.

So we'll go into the agricultural realms of husbandry and look for ideas. A country that can grow the world's best wheat in a window box ought to be able to come up with something special in pulchritude in its backyard.

Up to now, we haven't been going into this thing scientifically enough. We've just had a bunch of nice young women enter contests for the fun of it. They haven't been too serious. Why it's doubtful if they've even had expert coaching.

They've probably strung along with Josephine Lowman as long as Josephine was preaching the sermons they liked. The results have been obvious. Come the big beauty contests and our youngsters have turned up as themselves—good-looking girls, with bright attractive faces, cheerful personalities and passable lines—very passable.

Not In There Punching

But they haven't gone in there punching for the world title. Probably not one in seven Canadian parents has ever thought of raising a world beauty contest winner. There's been virtually no prenatal specialization on the question. The simple rules of improving the stock in that particular line never seem to have occurred to Canadians.

That's inexcusable. All over the country people slip into quiet little places with lots of telephones and invest two dollars and up on the improvement of the breed of race horses. Does anybody do that in the interests of pulchritude?

We're backward. This carefree dabble with fancy soaps and mudpucks isn't good enough. We need specialization. We need somebody to lead the crusade.

It's going to be a little difficult at first. Parents can be pretty unreasonable. Some of them just want their youngsters to be youngsters, healthy, happy and natural. But how can Canadians hold their heads up, how can they claim the loveliest girls alive when their entry in the World Beauty Contest doesn't place?

What are we coming to as a race? Just a bunch of normal people? No supermen? No superwomen? No Long Beach Miss Universes?

Ah well, we're pretty good at Number One Hard Wheat—and that's beautiful, in a way.

Danny Okayed by Scot Club

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 7 (Reuters). — Comedian Danny Kaye today was refused admittance by the exclusive Royal and Ancient Golf Club.

The doorman barred him after he had stepped from a Rolls Royce and entered the club waving cheerfully to a large crowd which had gathered to welcome him.

Members only, the doorman said, explaining that Kaye could not get in without an introduction from a member.

Kaye swung round and walked out. "It is all very embarrassing," he said. "No one told me when I phoned from London to reserve time that I needed an introduction."

But Kaye found a way in.

PRISONER ISSUE STILL BIG POINT AT PEACE TALKS

MUNSAN, Korea, July 7 (AP). — United Nations and Communist armistice negotiators held their fourth consecutive secret meeting today. A U.N. spokesman said proceedings were on a "business-like basis."

A single issue—exchange of prisoners of war—blocks an armistice.

Today's meeting lasted 48 minutes. The executive sessions will resume at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Brig-Gen. William P. Nuckols, U.N. command spokesman, indicated the Reds refrained from using propaganda blasts today.

Both sides read prepared statements dealing with exchange of prisoners, Nuckols said.

He refused to say whether progress has been made.

'United States' Wins Atlantic Ribbon First Time in 83 Years, Beating Queen Mary's Time

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ABOARD THE S.S. UNITED STATES AT SEA, July 7 (AP).—The sleek, new super-liner United States completed her maiden Atlantic crossing today in a record three days, 10 hours and 40 minutes, copping the trans-Atlantic speed ribbon for the U.S. for the first time in 83 years.

Her first run was 10 hours and two minutes faster than the record set 14 years ago by the British Cunard liner Queen Mary.

The United States raced past the finish line—Bishop's Rock off the English coast—at 5:16 a.m. G.M.T. (1:16 a.m. E.D.T.) as a dawn gale of 60-knot winds whipped her. The ship's band struck up the "Star Spangled Banner," and her 1,700 passengers capped their champagne celebration with a cheer. The wind and rain kept most of them off the open decks.

The 53,000-ton vessel averaged 35.59 knots—about 41 land miles an hour—on the 2,938-mile crossing from Ambrose Light outside New York. The Queen Mary had averaged 31.69 knots on her record trip.

MARGARET TRUMAN ABOARD

Among the excited passengers was Margaret Truman, who stood on the captain's bridge. The passengers were to be at Le Havre, France for lunch. The ship will call Tuesday at Southampton before the return trip to New York.

"I feel like a pitcher who has pitched a no-hit game," the ship's jubilant captain, 55-year-old Commodore Harry Manning, told reporters.

Earlier he had said the liner's performance had exceeded even his own expectations. He added she would be doing her best again on her home voyage, but that adverse winds on the westward trip would tend to cut her speed.

Here is how the trans-Atlantic speed record has changed hands by nations, over the last 100 years:

1851—S.S. Pacific, U.S., nine days, 19 hours, 25 minutes.

1869—City of Brussels, British, Ireland to New York, seven days, 22 hours, three minutes; average speed 14.65 knots.

1897—Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, German, New York to England, five days, 15 hours, 25 minutes; average 22.51 knots.

1908—Lusitania, British, Ireland to New York, four days, 15 hours. Average, 25.57 knots.

1929—Bremen, German, France to New York, four days, 17 hours, 42 minutes; average 27.83 knots (maiden voyage).

1933—Rex, Italian, Gibraltar to New York, four days, 13 hours, 58 minutes; average 28.92 knots.

1935—Normandie, French, France to New York, four days, three hours, 13 minutes; average 29.98 knots. (Maiden voyage).

1936—Queen Mary, British, France to New York, four days,

'ELIZABETH' WILL NOT TRY FOR RECORD

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., July 7 (Reuters). — George E. Cove, captain of the Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth, said Sunday night his ship will not attempt to set a speed record for a trans-Atlantic crossing.

"You can take it for granted that there will be no attempt to beat the S.S. United States," he said after the 83,000-ton Elizabeth docked here.

The United States completed the Atlantic crossing early today in three days, 10 hours and 40 minutes—10 hours and two minutes faster than the Queen Mary.

In the Queen Elizabeth's most recent crossing she covered the 3,125 miles from New York to Cherbourg in four days, 12 hours, 33 minutes at an average speed of 28.79 knots.

Allied Raiding Party Beaten Back by Reds

SEOUL, Korea, July 7 (AP). — A large Allied raiding party, supported by tanks and flame throwers, was beaten back early today by Chinese entrenched in log pillboxes two miles east of the Panmunjom truce-talks site. United Nations infantry jumped off against three Red outposts at 10 o'clock Sunday night under a brilliant moonlit sky. The raiders were pinned down by Communist mortar shells and grenades at the first outpost. Two squads clawed to the top of the Chinese hill outpost but their flame-throwers and rockets failed to dislodge the Reds. On the flanks of the attack, flame-throwing tanks and infantry hit Red positions to prevent Communist reinforcements from moving up. A few hours after midnight, Allied reinforcements rushed in and helped the embattled troops withdraw.

ADVICE—In Ottawa Transport Controller R. W. Milner today advised shippers and consumers to move all possible bulk freight before grain threshing starts in western Canada.

Milner said that as much of this year's bulk requirements should be transported during the summer months as possible.

"It may be impossible to allocate sufficient equipment for other traffic later in the season," he said.

The warning was issued in view of heavy grain caravans in country elevators. This year's crop prospects indicate a large yield.

NAMED—In Ottawa Fisheries Minister Robert Mayhew today named H. R. MacMillan of Vancouver as one of Canada's three members of the six-man International Salmon Fisheries Commission.

The commission, established in 1937 by Canada and the United States, is responsible for the conservation and development of sockeye runs of the Fraser River system in British Columbia.

NINTH—In Fort St. John, B.C., the ninth successful oil or gas in this northeastern British Columbia district blew in with a 50-foot-high spray of light green oil Friday night.

High on a bluff little more than a mile west of Mile 36 on the Alaska Highway, 530 miles northwest of Edmonton, Pacific Petroleum, Fort St. John No. 9 well became the area's fourth successful oil well. Five gas wells also have been completed in the area.

When the oil was shut off after a 30-minute flow, the test had brought 810 feet of oil into the drillstem. No. 9's oil appeared to be of a clear, light type with a fairly high gravity, company officials reported.

PROSTATE—In Jersey City pig farmer Henry Krajewski, candidate for President on the "poor man's ticket," today cancelled his plans to compete with the Republicans at Chicago.

BANANA STEALS THIEF'S TIME

A hungry thief ate a banana but left everything else untouched Sunday when he raided a home at 138 Michigan.

Mrs. Alice Drake said the prowler entered her home by removing a screen from a pantry window.

Theft of $50 from a kitchen cupboard was reported by a resident at 203 Quadra Sunday.

WANNIPEG, July 7 (CP)—Violent thunderstorms which cut through Saskatchewan, Manitoba and northwestern Ontario late Saturday and early Sunday killed one person and caused extensive damage to crops and buildings.

The storm, at times accompanied by 80-mile-an-hour winds and hail, swept through in a northeasterly direction from Estevan, Sask.

Anna Jean Haacke of Elphinstone, Man., 23-year-old resort worker, was killed at Minaki, Ont., by lightning early Sunday. A bolt struck a tree, spiralled down the trunk and hit her just behind the left ear.

The storm was most severe Saturday night. Heavy winds at Estevan wrecked the grandstand at Nicholson Field, tore part of the roof from the C.P.R. station and shunted a railway car through three switches onto a main track. Damage also was reported at Oxbow and rain and hail flattened crops in the Carleton district.

In the Alexander district near Brandon, Man., roofs were blown off four barns and communication lines cut. In Brandon, hundreds of trees were uprooted and store windows shattered.

Similar damage was reported from Portage la Prairie. An estimated $500 damage was caused when a chimney, smashed through a garage. Crop damage of 40 to 100 per cent was caused by hail in the Oak Lake district south of Brandon.

Strong winds, rain and lightning hit the Winnipeg area but damage reports were slight.

Mossadegh's Reappointment Seems Certain

TEHRAN, Iran, July 7 (AP)—Iran's Senate today postponed a vote on the reappointment of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh but advised the Shah to approve the aged nationalist's continuance in office.

The lower house of Parliament, the Majlis, approved the reappointment Sunday by a vote of 52 to 3.

The Senate resolution said the upper house would vote on Mossadegh after he forms a cabinet and presents a program of his policies for study.

There was a possibility that the Shah might issue a royal decree later today approving Mossadegh's continuance in office. The aged premier had resigned, in accordance with tradition, when the new Parliament opened last week. Later he appeared in a radio address for reappointment.

Half of the 60-member Senate is appointed personally by the Shah. It has been in existence only two and one-half years. Though it has never overthrown a government on a vote of confidence, observers considered its resolution today an implied threat of such action.

Shotgun Murder Witness Muzzled by Voodoo Magic

RICHMOND, Va., July 7 (AP)—Murder charges were filed today against a woman who, police said, slew her husband and then kept the only witness silent for six years through "voodoo" and "magic powers."

Mrs. Cora Lee Nash, 53, was charged after Joe Nash, 56, told authorities he watched while she killed Luther Nash with two blasts from a shotgun in a swamp area Sept. 6, 1946.

"Then she put me under a spell and made me bury him," police quoted Joe Nash as saying.

His testimony sent officers early today into the swampland behind the Nash home. At a spot pointed out by Nash, police dug up one bone which they sent to the state medical examiner.

Police said Mrs. Nash held the White Oak community virtually "under a spell" and that residents thought she had voodoo powers which came from "magic roots" in her possession.

Two weeks ago they said they received a tip that the husband missing for six years, had been the victim of foul play.

Mrs. Goldie Bass, Richmond police woman, had a talk with Joe Nash. She told him:

"My power is greater than Cora's. Tell me the truth. She cannot hurt you."

She finally persuaded the frightened Nash to tell his story.

'UNDER SPELL' SIX YEARS

Foreign Minister Ole Bjørn Kraft had forecast the rejection in a statement Sunday night saying there appeared to be no legal basis for halting delivery of the 13,000-ton tanker.

"We fully understand the motives and sentiments which prompted the U.S. protest," he told reporters, "but there seems to be no legal basis for halting delivery of the ship. It was built under an old contract which we cannot break."

Canada Textile Strike Ended

MONTREAL, July 7 (CP)—Some 5,700 textile workers returned to work today in plants here and at Valleyfield, Que., bringing to an end a three-month wage strike.

A new contract providing, among things, a general wage increase of 11 cents an hour was signed Saturday by representatives of the United Textile Workers of America (U.T.W.A.) and Dominion Textile Co. plants here and at Valleyfield.

Decision to end the strike was reached by the employees themselves in a secret ballot Friday. They were voting on an agreement reached earlier in the week between union representatives and company officials.

SECOND ARREST OVER ROBBERY

EDMONTON, July 7 (CP)—Paul Soucy, 23, was brought to Edmonton early today aboard an R.C.M.P. aircraft after being arrested in Moose Jaw, Sask., Sunday night in connection with an armed robbery at Gainford, Alta., 50 miles west of Edmonton.

His alleged accomplice in the June 30 robbery, in which garage owner Rudolph Rufer was shot in the neck, was picked up by police in Edmonton Friday night. He is Roland Poupart, 18, formerly of Montreal.

Rufer, paralyzed by his neck wound, is still in serious condition in an Edmonton hospital.

Washington Woman Shoots Husband, Son

SPOKANE, July 7 (AP)—A farm woman shot and killed her sleeping husband and a son near her early today, then was disarmed by another son who was awakened by the noise, Sheriff Ralph Smith reported.

Smith said Mrs. Margaret C. Crisler, 46, admitted she shot her husband, Ancel, 66, and their son, Dale, 22, in the family farm home a mile west of nearby Valleyford.

The sheriff said another son, James, 20, got up, disarmed his mother and called officers.

Smith said the motive for the shooting wasn't clear immediately.

Smith quoted the woman as saying she "wanted to end the whole thing and thought this was the best way."

Washington Woman Shoots Husband, Son

BRISTOL, Eng. (CP)—Mrs. Eliza Pickford, 71, halted a runaway horse and wagon in a street where children were playing and was taken to hospital with a cut over the eye. She said "I've had my day, and I didn't care about getting killed so long as my young lives were saved."

Noted Canadian Steel Leader, Senator Dead

MURRA A. Que., July 7 (CP)—Senator J. Gordon Fogo, 55, top-flight steel executive and president of the National Liberal Federation, died here Sunday night.

He died shortly after 11 p.m. at a resort hotel where he had been attending business meetings.

The cause of death was not immediately known, but Senator Fogo for several years had been suffering from a heart condition which sent him to hospital for prolonged rests on several occasions.

A native of Halifax and vice-president of Algoma Steel Corporation, Senator Fogo would have been 56 on Wednesday.

He became president of the National Liberal Federation in 1943, after years of efficient organizational work within the Liberal party, and was appointed to the Senate four years later.

Senator Fogo maintained an office in Ottawa where he acted as liaison man between Algoma Steel and the federal government, specializing in labor questions.

He went to Ottawa from Halifax first in 1942 as associate co-ordinator of controls in the wartime munitions department. He later became one of the government's ace trouble-shooters on the production side of the war effort, specializing here, too, on labor problems.

Senator Fogo was born at Halifax July 9, 1896, the son of Alice Hanway and Adam G. Fogo, a locomotive engineer on the old Inter-Colonial Railway.

Trouble On the Yalu

THE MANAGEMENT OF AN international alliance has always been one of the most difficult feats of statecraft. It is all the more difficult in the case of the present free world's alliance when at least a technical state of peace exists and the centripetal pressure of general war and general danger is lacking.

The obvious misunderstanding between the United States and Britain over the recent Yalu River air raid is a vivid and disturbing illustration of this process. The United States, apparently forgetting momentarily that it represents the United Nations in Korea, launched this blow without advising even its most important ally in advance. As a result, the Churchill government is deeply embarrassed and all the anti-American elements of Britain are in full cry. This unhappy contretemps was made to order for the Kremlin.

On the surface this all appears to be a mistake on the part of the American government, as Mr. Acheson has assured Britain, a mere breach in good manners. For no one denies that the military management of the Korean war must be directed by the United States, on behalf of the United Nations, the United States supplying the largest part of the allied power in men, weapons and money. In fact, behind the accident deep and divisive forces are at work in the United States, Britain and other free countries.

For more than a year the politics of the United States has been split between those who believe that the Far Eastern conflict can be settled by negotiation and those who wish to settle it by a shattering attack on China. That, of course, was the real meaning of the MacArthur incident.

British policy, under the Attlee government, was based on the theory that, treated kindly, Communist China could be detached from Russia and that, too, was the actual policy of the American government before the Communist invasion of Korea. Britain still recognizes the Chinese Communist government, though it has been declared an aggressor by the United Nations. While the Attlee government and its successor have joined in the collective struggle against aggression both of them have strongly resisted what may be called the MacArthur policy of going beyond the defense of South Korea, have feared, like the Truman government, a great war in Asia.

Thus on the one hand the Truman government has been constantly pressed by a large section of the Republican party to expand the war in the hope of settling it, while on the other hand the Churchill government is being pressed more and more by the Labor party to oppose what the socialists consider irresponsible American military leadership. The position of both governments has been difficult enough without the added aggravation of the latest public disagreement.

Another factor must be remembered in calculating the Chinese situation and, indeed, every aspect of allied foreign policy. The United States lives today and must live until November in a state of suspended political animation. Pending the verdict of the electors, the government cannot risk decisive acts, the opposition is exaggerating and inflaming every difficulty to embarrass the President and foreign policy is very largely the football of partisan politics.

This also is made to order for the Kremlin. For some four months, the grand alliance must limp along as well as it can until the future leadership of its chief member is settled. Such a period is bound at best to be confusing, irritating and indecisive. It has been made unnecessarily so by an unfortunate gaucherie which the American government undoubtedly regrets.

The Americans, called to supreme world leadership almost overnight and accepting their unsought responsibilities magnificently, have much to learn about the strategy of world coalition. The wonder is not that they sometimes make mistakes but that the coalition has survived the shocks of recent times and, despite its occasional disputes, has grown steadily in strength.

Too Important To Be Fumbled

THE TALES OF DISSATISFACTION and spoiled ballots that have followed the recent election need not be construed as evidence of weakness in the voting system. Much of the confusion obviously stems from the inability of many voters to carry out the simple instructions regarding the marking of ballots.

Despite the weeks of explanations, examples, contest series, government advertisements and other helpful material carried in the press, a sizeable percentage of citizens remained in ignorance of the correct procedure. While spoilage was less than 1 per cent in Oak Bay, in Victoria about one out of every 10 "B" ballots were spoiled.

That is inexcusable. And it raises the question whether the loss of the vote of a person unable to fill out simplified forms with 1-2-3-4 or crosses as required is a great detriment in helping to choose a government to run the country.

The balloting system itself should not be blamed for such difficulties.

Another consideration, however, has greater point. There can be no doubt that in some cases those in charge of the polling stations were not able to carry out their duties in a proper manner. We read of deputy returning officers arriving late at their posts, of apparent ignorance of the correct procedure of voting and of the regulations of the election act, of makeshift booth arrangements, of crowding into insufficiently large quarters, and of mistakes in handling the original count.

The conduct of a public vote is not a thing to be bumbled around by a lot of fuzzy-minded folk. Voting on election day was the most important act most British Columbia residents have carried out this year. And quite apart from ensuring that no errors should creep into the count, it is essential that no appearance of bungling or unsureness by poll workers should be allowed to raise in the mind of any voter a doubt as to the conduct of the poll. A properly run election is of the utmost concern to every citizen.

Incompetence in the handling of the voting machinery could easily create a cynical attitude—what's the use of voting, they'll muddle it up anyway—that ultimately could defeat the whole purpose of democracy, which consists in correctly recording the expressed will of the people.

The polls should be staffed only by persons who are mentally and physically alert, who are fully instructed in every aspect of their task, and who are imbued with the importance of their trust. The recent polls, in some cases, fell short of these criteria. Later arrangements for the re-count appear to have been much more successful.

The difficulties of finding suitable personnel among available persons with free time can be appreciated. But the importance of elections to the public, and to democracy, surely should warrant releasing from their employment, for one day, a sufficient number of accountants, teachers, office clerks and other suitable citizens to ensure that voting and counting could be carried out without a hitch.

We should have an energetic revision of arrangements before another election takes place.

A New Vista May Be Opened

PREDICTIONS OF THE POLITICAL battles to come before the West German peace treaty and rearmament pact are approved by the governments involved have tended to obscure another international commitment that in the long run may prove equally important.

Italy a few days ago ratified the Schuman Plan agreement. The other five signatories—France, Belgium, Holland, West Germany and Luxembourg—had already voted their approval. This history-making approach to the international management of resources and industry is thus a major step nearer implementation.

By its provisions, the coal and steel industries of the contracting countries will be directed by a central authority with a large degree of independence from governments. The steel output, 38 million tons a year, and the coal production, 225 million tons, are exceeded in volume only by that of the United States. This huge industrial complex will operate in a tariff-free area comprising the six countries involved.

It constitutes an experiment in co-operation on a scale unprecedented in history. It may prove, regardless of peace treaties and defensive rearmament schemes, the most potent obstacle to war yet devised.

Apart from the economic benefits—the cheaper production and distribution to be effected through more economical use of the natural resources and industrial plants available—the argument is that the resulting interdependence of the powers concerned will act as a deterrent to the creation of war machines and to their use. As Mr. Robert Schuman, the French foreign minister after whom the plan is named, declares, war between Germany and France will be "not only unthinkable but impossible."

While such a happy result will take good will as well as good management by all parties to the contract, the fact remains that a favorable environment for peace has been created. And the benefits of a good example—the setting up, for instance, of a huge free trade area for even one group of commodities—may well in time be extended to larger territories and other products.

A great deal depends on the Schuman plan. Its success may mean a new and attractive vista in a world grown too small for unrestricted nationalism.

They Hit the Bullseye at Duncan

MUCH THAT IS GOOD IN CANADIAN life comes from the smaller communities. The principle was well exemplified on July 1, when one of Vancouver Island's progressive centres put on a celebration that, by all accounts, might serve as a pattern for cities of much larger size.

As an appropriate observance of the birthday of our nationhood, Duncan featured entertainments stressing the success with which various racial elements have been incorporated into the Canadian population. Indians performed their native dances. Japanese dancers provided a colorful touch of their native art, local school children demonstrated square dancing, and other elements attracted an audience which also varied widely in its origins.

With the addition of logging contests representing the skill of Duncan's neighboring industry, here was a Dominion Day celebration that was built around the best to be found in our way of life. The people of Duncan, as so often on various occasions in the past, have earned a "well done."

BOB RUARK SAYS:

It Still Gives You Goose Pimples

NEW YORK—One of the great documentaries of the last war has just slid from the presses, or so it seems to me. It's called "Submarine," by Cmdr. Edward L. Beach, U.S.N. (Henry Holt, $3.50), and even this many years later the goose pimples still sprout on your neck when you read it.

"Submarine" is basically the story of U.S.S. Trigger, on which Cmdr. Beach served from ensign onward, but over-all it is a completely fascinating account of the entire silent service. We were not told much of submarines while the war was on, and not too much after, because of the highest possible security. I remember that in Pearl Harbor even the citations accompanying medals for heroism were intensely scanned for security breaches that could get a whole lot of people killed.

WORKING briefly in press censorship at Makalapa on Oahu, during the last year of the war with Japan, I used to read battle reports from boats like Trigger and Harder and Tang and Wahoo, and even the dry, stilted navalese could not rob the account of its excitement.

You would have reports, say, mentioning casually that Cmdr. Slade Cutter took his boat into a Jap harbor; and watched a horse race through the periscope—or that again in a Jap harbor, some skipper had casually torpedoed a dock, sending a whole busload of Jap sailors to heaven.

I REMEMBER one report of a guy who was claiming two transports sunk, and I recall he said he did not actually see the transports sink, but still claimed them. For, he said, "we sank the two destroyers who were picking up the survivors."

There was the report I remember of Cmdr. Jim Blanchard and his exec, an old buddy of mine named Ben Adams, sinking a first-line Jap carrier of the Shokaku class with one torpedo hit into the gasoline stowage compartment. Mush Morton's Wahoo sank about everything the Japs owned with a fired egg on its masthead, before he turned up missing. Cmdr. Beach's Triggermen felt sheepish indeed if they came back to Pearl without a broom tied on the masthead, denoting a clean sweep, and with nary a fish left to fire.

AMERICAN subs did just about everything. They sank other submarines. They knocked off whole convoys. They sank major fighting ships. They shot up harbors. They rescued downed fliers. They took Jap prisoners. They swept the seas so clean of Japanese shipping that in the end they were cruising around on the surface, shooting up sampans with machine guns. Submarines alone so destroyed Japan's logistics that the Nips had nothing left to float, men and supplies by the end of 1944.

SUBMARINES and submariners always fascinated me, who gets acute claustrophobia in an elevator. They were the fiercest fighting men I ever saw, a sort of dedicated bunch who thought that theirs was the only worthwhile arm of the war. They were picked men of the highest type, from men who skipper, and every Jack of every boat had to be able to do every job.

Their goings were silent, and their returns from patrol were uproarious. They came back pale and underweight and jumpy from depth-chargings, and they hit Honolulu with a torpedo's impact. No cop on Oahu could have been forced to throw a submarine into jail, no matter how drunk and disorderly he was acting on the town. They just scooped up the celebrators and lugged them back to their private headquarters in the Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

BECAUSE these boys, still quivery from hangovers and butterflies fluttering in their stomachs, would show silently off again soon, and a flock of them wouldn't be coming back. Three hundred and seventy-four officers and 3,131 enlisted men didn't come back.

Commander Beach has done a wonderful simple and dramatic job in telling you about these men and the business they were in. It would be sheer blood-and-thunder except for the simplicity of wry humor with which he spins his story, but the net result is that you wind up kind of proud of your kinkles in an old and serious war that was fought to the hilt, instead of in political piecemeal.

Treason and "Martyrs"

Edmonton Journal
THE federal government's decision not to prosecute Dr. James Endicott for his alleged "germ warfare" interview in China is not unexpected. The Liberal government, both under Mackenzie King and Mr. St. Laurent, has always leaned over backward to avoid anything that might look like a political prosecution, at least in peacetime. As Justice Minister Garson explained, it was feared that laying charges against Endicott would make him a martyr.

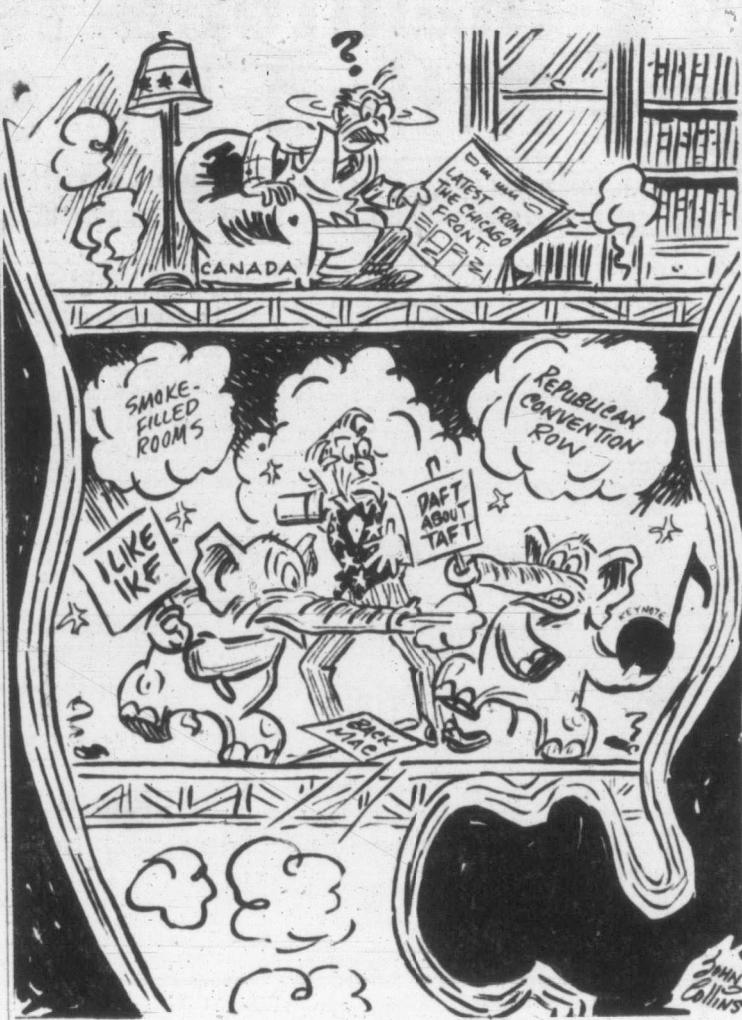

This is an understandable viewpoint, and it might be perfectly justified if this were just a matter of some soapbox orator airing his grievances to a casual crowd in Canada. The Endicott case, however, is much more serious than that.

This is a grave matter. If Dr. Endicott actually said the things of which he is accused—and this is something that only a court could satisfactorily decide—he could have committed treason within the terms of an amendment to the Criminal Code passed last year.

It declares the following to be treason: "Assisting, while in or out of Canada, any enemy at war with Canada, or any armed forces against whom Canadian forces are engaged in hostilities, whether or not a state of war exists between Canada and the country whose forces they are." This was specifically intended to cover individuals who helped, by propaganda or otherwise, the war effort of Communist China or North Korea, or other countries with which we might come into conflict without a formal declaration of war.

Treason charges are so serious to be ignored, just because prosecution might make the man prosecuted a "martyr" in certain circles.

The Neighbors Below Us Throw a Party

As Our Readers See It

EMBITTERED

The defenders of our provincial parks and natural resources look forward with renewed hope to the formation of a government which will give fair and unbiased consideration to their appeal against the application granted to the B.C. Power Commission to dam Buttle Lake, Strathcona Park.

Conservationists, throughout B.C., were deeply embittered by the cynical treatment accorded to their cause during the dying hours of the last Legislature.

DENIS H. BESLEY,
234 Government Street.

FREE SPEECH

I was greatly interested in a letter appearing in your paper on July 2 under the signature of S. Smith, Walnut Street, pertaining to free speech, and this man Endicott's address. Personally, I fail to see how Endicott or any of his friends could complain if denied the rights to free speech. For after all, they are merely the faithful servants of a country where free speech, civil and political liberty, are a complete joke, and whose unfortunate citizens are in the same position now as the Anglo-Saxons were prior to the revolution of 1688.

J. TAYLOR,
1330 Denman Street.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

There has been a great deal of discussion during the recent election about the meaning of social credit. Major Jukes, as the official interpreter has made clear that, Social Credit is a way of life, which can be adopted by any existing party. What is evident in British Columbia is, that thousands of people have lost their confidence in the two old major political parties, and are willing to attach themselves to a fresh group, whose declared intentions are, good government, as in Alberta. So that what is desired by an overwhelming number of people is, good government in British Columbia.

Some three years ago, a small group of journalists got together with the avowed intention of forming a new political party. They set out their platform, and issued a small magazine setting out their ideas; but they could not obtain sufficient necessary capital to get their ideas over to the public.

The break up of the Coalition government has revealed the need for either a new political party, with ideals in it, and sound democratic purpose; or for a new form of government which will give effect to the real aspirations of the people. Perhaps the old parliamentary form has outlived its usefulness and efficiency. Why an opposition, and the endless debating which follows a formal speech from the Throne?

What a vast undertaking is the Standard Oil Company, which is governed by a board of directors of most efficient kind. They have their experts and specialists for every branch of their great enterprise. Isn't this what our governments most need today, efficient management, in every branch, from top to bottom?

We are almost convinced that an efficient board of directors could manage the affairs of British Columbia with a staff of not exceeding 2,000 workers, instead of over 10,000 employees under the present political and patronage set-up.

HARRY LANGLEY,
1010 Foul Bay Road.

MODERN REVOLUTION

We in B.C. are in revolt against patronage, nepotism, bureaucracy, tariff protection and inflation caused by political intrigue.

We have strikes, not against the employers, but against the high cost of living, expressed by the cost of living index published by the government.

If the index were to fall 25 per cent there would be no strikes, but the value of money would increase that much. This is indicated by the fact that as the cost has fallen a small amount the value of the U.S. dollar has declined. In fact the Americans are running away from their currency on account of its inflation.

We are rejecting the old party system on this account because it was fostered by conservatively interested election funds.

No statesman can counteract these evils without the co-operation of a national coalition government.

We are not using the guillotine to better our circumstances, but should use it on discriminatory laws.

WILLIAM A. LAMING,
228 Memorial Crescent.

BREAKERS AHEAD

May I state a case that has come to my notice? A widow (in very poor health) who had been receiving a widow's allowance of $40.41 per month with a rental income of $10, having now reached the age of 70 is therefore eligible for the old age security pension. She has been informed by the Department of Veterans Affairs that in future her income will be old age security, $40; rental income, $10; widow's allowance 83 cents. Total, $50.83. This is the maximum income permissible to a widow without dependants under the Allowance Act. A millionaire can draw the O.A.S. without question, but the veteran and widow must accept a means test!

How dare any government in a so-called democracy use the word "permissible" in reference to anyone's income? That same government votes itself a very comfortable pension for life. Does it not read the handwriting on the wall?

It is there for all to see—"Weighed in the balance and found wanting."—Are there no statesmen left today? We have politicians without number but statesmen—none. Wake up Canada! There are breakers ahead.

The writer is not a socialist but believes in justice for all.

First Hot Blast At Chicago

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
From Chicago

THE first hot blast of this embittered Republican convention leaves you both startled and puzzled. The venom engendered between the Taft and Eisenhower forces has to be seen to be believed. And you find yourself wondering how on earth the wounds are ever to be bound up, and how the party is ever to carry the November election, if the candidate who wins here has got to march to victory through rivers of fraternal blood.

The basic trouble, of course, is the split which has plagued the Republican party in all its efforts to regain its former greatness. In certain states, notably in the Midwest, the Party's Old Guard survived the 1932 debacle and still controls the local party organizations. In other states, notably on the East and West coasts, the Old Guard went down forever with Herbert Hoover, and new style Republicans have cropped up, as a sort of second growth.

As in 1940, 1944 and 1948, the present struggle is between Old Guardsmen and the new style Republicans. The Old Guard backs Taft. Eisenhower is the choice of the moderns, the compromisers and the anti-isolationists.

But this convention differs in one vital particular from the conventions which nominated Wendell Willkie and Thomas E. Dewey. There is a stop-at-nothing spirit, a willingness to go to any lengths to put Sen. Taft over, which was lacking in the Old Guard's rather feeble comeback bid in other years.

So far as one can judge, this spirit has several sources. Gov. Dewey's surprise defeat in 1948, and Sen. Taft's 1950 victory in Ohio, have inspired the Old Guard with a new self-confidence, for one thing.

For another, there is the personality of Sen. Taft himself. Never forgivingly ambitious, never inclined to write down his own chances, Taft has now come close to tasting victory in his many months of hard campaigning. And this foretaste of triumph has filled him with a grim determination to get his own way, a scorn and suspicion of his opponents, which he does not trouble to conceal.

Then, too, there is the peculiar and unpleasant development symbolized by the Taft-controlled National Committee's choice of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy as one of the convention speakers. Every Republican moderate has been excluded from the platform, but McCarthy has been invited to orate.

The meaning is only too plain. Even the Old Guardsmen do not argue that their basic political program has widespread popular appeal. But a majority of them believe there is a lot of vote-getting power in the peculiar brand of right-wing demagoguery which was first perfected by Sen. McCarthy.

"McCarthyism," which most moderate Republicans abhor, is thought of as a great source of strength by many leaders of the Taft forces. And the feeling that they have of this new way of getting through to the electorate, is an important factor in the psychology of the Taft camp.

Finally, there is the simple fact that this convention is the Republican Old Guard's last chance. The great majority of the key figures, both organization chieftains and financial backers, are actually unlikely to be able to fight again in 1956. In years, as in other ways, these are the older Republicans. And they are all the more furiously set on getting their party back on what they think is the right track, while there is still time.

The Taft steam-roller tactics, the bold adoption of the strategy that won a worthless nomination for William Howard Taft in 1912, are immediate consequences of the stop-at-nothing spirit that animates the Taft camp. The consequences, if Sen. Taft wins the nomination, are easy to foresee.

Again, the best clue is the selection of Sen. McCarthy as a convention speaker. A stop-at-nothing campaign will follow the stop-at-nothing convention. The experiment, although painful, will be vividly interesting. There will be no fuzzy attempt to conciliate moderates, independents, straying Democrats and other such weak spirits. It will be a final test of the number of Americans who really respond to the brand of politics offered by Sen. Taft and the kind of emotional appeal presented by Sen. McCarthy.

As Sen. Taft himself has said, the Republicans will then hope to find their majority among the millions of Americans who do not ordinarily vote. But what if stop-at-nothing tactics do not work, and Gen. Eisenhower is nominated, which is equally likely? The question then will be whether this bitter battle here in Chicago has crippled Gen. Eisenhower in advance, foreclosing him from making a broad, national-minded campaign. As of today, this also seems to be a genuine danger, which the General and his managers need to guard against very carefully.

Malanism

London Free Press

Hon. Walter Harris, our minister of immigration, denies that Negroes are barred entry to Canada, or that they are prevented from becoming Canadian citizens, but the successive orders-in-council under which this is handled do appear to give the government considerable restrictive power—indeed to make it possible to bar anyone from the West Indies and similar areas if authorities think he will not fit into our "climatic, social, educational, industrial, labor or other conditions or requirements."

Before we censure South Africans too much we should examine the logic and wisdom of our own course. White supremacy is the same principle whether in Canada or South Africa.

Our laws and traditions were established at a time when there was general agreement about the proper limits of public discussion. No account was taken of the shadow-land of treason in which Endicott and others like him dwell. The shadow-land indeed did not exist. It is impossible to avoid the conclusion that special measures may have to be invoked to deal with the activities of persons whose object, secret or avowed, is to weaken and to destroy the very liberties which today afford them protection from punishment.

RAT HORDES THEIR ENEMIES

City Scientists Wage Own War

By AILEEN CAMPBELL

Victoria has no need of a Pied Piper—the rat population is well under control.

Such is the word from Elwood Gropp, chief sanitary inspector, and Eric Grant, inspector in rodent control, at the city's Health and Welfare Centre today.

In the new laboratory at the centre, Mr. Grant dissects and examines rats in a continuous program to safeguard the city from bubonic plague.

The work used to be done by the provincial government but since Jan. 1 has been handled by Mr. Grant in connection with the centre's new expanded sanitation program.

"We are very pleased with the result of our rodent control program," said Mr. Gropp.

"It is most important particularly in connection with civil defense. It would be easy to infect the rodent population in wartime through germ warfare."

"We feel this is a very important phase of the work."

Mr. Grant stressed the need for keeping the rat population at a minimum. He obtains rats frequently from the wharves where they are trapped. Cyanide is used to kill both the rats and fleas.

"The fleas are shipped in vials to the provincial hygiene laboratory at Kamloops," Mr. Grant said.

"If any suspicious pus organism is found in the glands or livers of the rats, they are sent packed in ice to the hygiene laboratory," he added.

Both Mr. Grant and Mr. Gropp welcome reports from residents of any rat infestation. Such reports aid in the control program. The sanitary department will set the traps and attend to any catching.

Eight Killed in French Air Crash

LYON, France, July 7 (Reuters)—Eight persons were killed when a plane crashed Sunday during an air regatta at Bron airfield.

The plane, a twin-engine Nord 2501, was demonstrating when the pilot cut one engine and went into a single-engine vertical climb.

The plane flicked over, went into a spin, crashed and caught fire.

One of the passengers killed in the crash was Maryse Bastie, woman aerobatic champion and France's best-known prewar woman pilot.

Gen. De Gaulle Faces Split in French Party

PARIS, July 7 (Reuters).—A rebel movement was reported Saturday in General Charles de Gaulle's political party—Rassemblement du Peuple Français.

Leaders of a rebel group of Gaullist deputies announced that "an important number" of their men had decided to quit De Gaulle's rightist party.

The statement came after a private meeting of about 20 Gaullist deputies and senators who said they were profoundly dissatisfied with a decision by the party congress that all deputies must toe the party line in important National Assembly votes.

It was believed some 30 to 35 deputies out of 115, and some 20 senators out of 70, probably would resign and form a new group in parliament.

De Gaulle, party leader, sat among 1,200 delegates at an earlier stormy congress meeting while the rebel legislators hurled severe criticism his way.

Several rapped him for following "a policy of sterile and systematic opposition" in parliament.

Former Quebec Liberal Premier Dead

QUEBEC, July 7 (CP)—Louis-Alexandre Taschereau, 85, Quebec premier between 1920 and 1936, died at his home here Sunday.

A key figure in the province's modern political history, the former Liberal premier was a descendant of one of Canada's most distinguished families and held the premiership 16 years, less a month, a record in Quebec.

His three sons, two daughters and their families were at his bedside when death came. They had kept constant vigil since his health waned following the death of his 81-year-old wife January 24.

At the bedside were Robert, Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; Paul, Quebec lawyer; Charles, Montreal designer; Mrs. Cortland (Gabrielle) Pages, and Mrs. Louis (Juliette) Gelinas, of Montreal.

The funeral will be held here Wednesday.

During Mr. Taschereau's political career he sat 36 years in the provincial legislature for Montmorency riding and held the portfolios of public works, provincial treasurer and attorney-general.

Calgary Yippin' as Stampede Opens

CALGARY, Alta., July 7 (BUP)—There were 10-gallon hats, horses, highballs and hip-oo-rays in this old cow-town today but nobody was alimin' at namin' a presidential candidate. Chicago had its grand old party, but Calgary had its stampede.

The foothills city turned on its rodeo charm for another edition of its world-famous exhibition, and thousands of city folk and country visitors got into the western mood to open the six-day festivities.

They yelled "yippee" as rope-tossing cowboys and cowgirls frolicked through the streets. Indians in tribal robes let out their war whoops. Floats and bands added to the panorama of western life.

There was square-dancing in the streets and flapjacks and "sowbelly" cooked in old western style at the back of chuck-wagons.

Stampede authorities hoped for a new attendance record. Last year, 408,267 Calgarians and visitors poured through the turnstiles to set an all-time record, and it was expected total attendance this year would reach 450,000.

THREE GIRLS AND BOY BORN TO WOMAN IN NEW ENGLAND

PORTLAND, Me., July 7 (UP)—Quadruplets—three girls and a boy—were born today to Mrs. Elizabeth B. Pinkham, wife of a Standish carpenter. Mother and children were doing well.

Dr. Edwin E. Morse, head of the obstetrical department at Osteopathic Hospital, delivered the children unassisted. He said he expected that Mrs. Pinkham would have only twins and that the birth of quadruplets was entirely unexpected.

Quadruplets occur only about once in every 680,000 births and the birth of the three girls and a boy to Mrs. Pinkham marked the second set of the quads to be born in New England this year.

WOULD BE IMPROPER

Canadian Cabinet Advised To Pass Up G.O.P. Parley

OTTAWA, July 7 (BUP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent has advised the members of his cabinet that it would be unbecoming for any of them to attend the Republican convention in Chicago, even in the roles of impartial spectators.

At least one minister who had managed to come by the hard-to-get tickets for the event and had organized a small party of friends to accompany him had to abandon his plans at the last minute out of deference to the Prime Minister's ruling.

Some other ministers who were in the process of debating whether or not they would undertake the journey had their minds similarly made up for them by the edict.

The basis of the Prime Minister's instructions is his belief that any expression of undue interest in the domestic politics of any foreign country by Canada's government is manifestly improper.

Since a cabinet minister is at all times a member of the government and cannot divest himself of that character at will, the presence of any of them at the Chicago ringside is considered by Mr. St. Laurent to violate international proprieties.

But the barrier for cabinet ministers was limited only to attendance at the conventions. They will be close to their radios as will other parliamentarians during the convention debates.

WANTED—ONE SIDE OF BACON

LONDON, July 7 (CP)—Bacon-loving Herbert Harris, fed up with sacrificing his ration for the good of the community, wrote an agony letter today to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Harris is entertainment manager of London's Willesden district, and he's trying to find a Willesden-born Canadian who will donate a filch of bacon as a prize to the winning couple at Willesden's annual August bank holiday festival.

"I'm fed up with sacrificing," said Harris, who has given up his own ration for the last five years. "If someone doesn't come to the rescue I'll have given away a side of bacon by the time I retire."

If a Canadian comes through, Harris will provide in return some suitable souvenir of Willesden.

Gas Export Hearing Resumes

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—The Federal Power Commission prepared to hear arguments today from companies asking permission to import natural gas from Canada for sale in the United States.

The arguments will deal with a motion that six pending applications for import permits be denied. The decision depends on whether the companies can show they have authority from Canada to export gas from there.

Alvin Kurtz, commission counsel, said nearly three weeks of hearings showed that none of the applicants has authority from Canada to export gas. Kurtz asked last week that the applications be denied.

Each of the six applicants originally proposed to tap gas fields in Alberta and British Columbia. One firm—Pacific Northwest Pipe Line Corporation—has since announced abandonment of the Canadian plan. It now proposes to get its gas in the San Juan fields of New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah.

Kurtz' motion marked the end of the hearing's first phase which was devoted to supply and proof of Canadian export authority. Whether examiner Glenn Law will proceed with the second phase—financial ability and engineering plans—depended upon the outcome of today's arguments.

Only two companies presented testimony in the initial phase. Northwest Natural Gas Company introduced evidence of firm contracts for a supply of gas from Southern Alberta, but admitted it hasn't export authority. Westcoast Transmission Company, Inc., has limited export authority but could show only letters of intent indicating the willingness of various Peace River producers to negotiate sales contracts.

VISITORS DOMINATE SHOOT

B.C. Trap Title To Robertson

Better than $3,000 went up in puffs of black smoke at the Victoria Gun Club Saturday and Sunday and when the last of over 31,000 targets lay smashed (or whole) on the turf, major skeet and trap honors were resting with visiting marksmen.

Scene of the Vancouver Island skeet championship Saturday, and the British Columbia trap-shooting championships Sunday, the local club hosted a record entry for Vancouver Island.

Cigar-chewing Jim Robertson of Vancouver, holder of the title "Mr. Shotgun Shooter for 1951," and described as one of the most consistent marksmen on the Pacific Coast, won the most coveted honor—the B.C. singles trap championship with 98x100. Victoria's defending champion, Jack Roach, was second in the Hager Trophy event with 93x100.

Tom Garner of Duncan, took the high aggregate overall with 183x200, Robertson being runner-up with 182x200.

Swan Tork of Ladysmith, captured the "B" class singles championship with 96x100, Garner losing a shoot-off with Russ Young of Vancouver for runner-up laurels, each having 95x100 in the original shoot.

Ladies' high gun and provincial championship went to Miss Jean King of Vancouver, with a score of 83x100.

Red McIndoe of Nelson edged Garner for the provincial trap handicap championship, breaking 49 clays in a 50-bird shoot to Garner's 48.

Seattle's Jack Reddy, current Washington State titleholder, captured the non-resident singles (96x100), handicap (47x50), doubles (45x50), and high aggregate (188x200).

Jim Turner of Vancouver, took the E. T. Todd Trophy for the all-bore high gun, all-round international event (50 skeet, 50 trap), with 96x100.

Frank Benton of Nanaimo captured "A" class 25 pairs doubles (47x50) with Clarke Atchison runner-up with 46x50.

Torko was "B" class doubles winner. G. Young of Nanaimo topped "C" class and Hugh Newman of "D" class.

FUTURE STAR IN MAKING

Probably the highlight of the day, however, was the performance of 13-year-old Ken Jay of Victoria, a Chinese lad, who won the B.C. junior (under 16) championship, a new event this year.

Veteran marksmen were almost unanimous in their opinion that "the youngster handled himself like a real old-timer."

Victoria's representative side of Russ Horton, Jack Roach, Herb Handyside, John Wenger and Ron Page won the provincial team title and possession of the C.I.L. Shield.

DOUBLE VICTORY

Turner, winner of the all-bore high gun title, also captured the Vancouver Island skeet championship Saturday in a shoot-off with New Westminster's Frank Cooper, "B" class winner. Both had 95x100, with Turner winning the shoot-off, 23x25 to 22x25, to take the McPeely trophy.

Newman took "C" class with 90x100.

In the 50-target all-bore, Bill Johnston and Reg Noble tied with L. Simmonson, Edmunds, Wash. Turner was second and Bill Edstrom of Vancouver third. Edstrom won the non-resident shoot with 95x100.

The American team edged the Canadian unit 117x125 to 114x125 to take the international team skeet event.

Waters Leading Scorer In Pee wee Boxla Loop

Barry Waters rapped in four goals Saturday as Saanich took over undisputed possession of first place in the Pee wee Lacrosse League by defeating Esquimalt, 11-4, at Stevenson Memorial Park.

But more important to Waters, it gave him a stranglehold on the league scoring crown with 60 points in 12 games.

Other scorers for Saanich were Tom Collett (3), Jim Gailbreth (2), Don Craigdall and Rabey. Adam Simpson scored two for Esquimalt with Bob Rothery and Barry Loughlan netting singletons.

In other games, Fairfield whipped Fernwood, 8-4, in a pee wee contest, and Fernwood defeated Fairfield, 13-7, and Oak Bay shut out Saanich, 5-0, in bantam league games.

Gavilan, Turner Meet In Title Bout Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, July 7 (AP)—Steaming heat may put the premium on stamina tonight in the welterweight title bout between champion Kid Gavilan of Havana and Gil Turner, the 21-year-old challenger from Philadelphia.

Some 40,000 fans are expected to pay $300,000 to see the latest home-town sensation bid for a world's title.

With prospects of hot, muggy weather and daytime temperature around 95, this could build up into another Sugar Ray Robinson-Joe Maxim duel of survival. However, there will be no glaring television lights at ringside because radio, TV and theatre TV all have been barred.

Unbeaten Turner, with 25 knockouts in 31 straight wins, brings a sensational record into the ring. But he must face an experienced veteran of 98 fights who has been knocked down only once in his 10-year pro career. Gavilan's record of 82-12-3 lacks the glamor of Turner's perfection but it reflects the 26-year-old Cuban's willingness to fight 'em all.

Gavilan has beaten middleweights Paddy Young, Laurent Dauthuille, Rocky Castellani, Eugene Hairston and Walter Cartier. Robinson wasn't able to floor him in 25 rounds (two fights). In fact, Ike Williams in 1948 was the only man to put him on the deck. He got up at eight.

Turner's path has been much easier. He has knocked off Beau Jack, Charlie Fusari, Bernie Docusen and Ike Williams in 31 straight wins.

Thompson, playing a two-handed game to protect a weak wrist, bowed to Dr. Hugh Ford in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3.

George Bishop, after eliminating third-seeded Peacock in a surprise upset on Saturday, continued his drive Sunday by beating "Doc" Miller by scores of 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

Chief interest on the distaff side was provided by Claire Kinnis and Isobel Henley in a singles match which ran for two hours. Miss Kinnis came through to win 3-5, 6-1, 7-5.

The men's flights, which commence tonight, are expected to attract unusual interest since vying for the honors will be such strong players as Peacock, Thompson, Jim McArthur and Walter Knotts.

Brilliant Ashdown Halts Milligan's Bid

Stellar goalkeeper of North Shore Reds, Frank Ashdown, came close to dashing Victoria United's Coast League championship hopes Saturday with his nimble, mind-boggling. However, United broke through for three goals and won championship with 3-2 victory at Macdonald Park. Here Ashdown, right, comes out of his nets to punch a shot out as United centre forward and coach Wallace Milligan goes high in the air in an attempt to get his head to the ball.

Coast Soccer Title To Victoria United

Turbulent Season Comes to End

Victoria 3, North Shore 2

At times almost tossed on her beam-ends in the turbulent sea that was the 1951-52 soccer season, Victoria United's ship of fortune docked Saturday with the Coast Soccer League championship stowed away in her hold.

Possession of the title brings to an end a season that will long be remembered by Victoria fans as United at times appeared doomed to failure.

However, the 3-2 victory over North Shore Reds at Macdonald Park Saturday in the deciding game of the championship playoffs overshadowed the many disputes that arose during the season.

It is believed that this is the first time that the Coast Soccer League championship has ever come to Victoria. Manager George Eade said: "I knew we could do it, I knew we could."

United were fortunate in receiving several outstanding individual performances in the playoff game.

ROBBINS STARRY

Particularly outstanding was halfback Sid Robbins. The workmanlike centre half who seldom receives due recognition for his steady play, was given the task of checking North Shore's veteran centre forward Fred Whittaker.

Robbins stuck to Whittaker like paint on a wall and the entire Shore forward was bogged down as a result.

Left-winger Bernie Clarkson played what was probably his best game of the season, showing blazing speed from the outside and notching a pair of goals.

EARLY ADVANTAGE

United started strongly in the first half and were halted for 25 minutes by a wizard named Frank Ashdown, in goal for North Shore. Ashdown stopped at least six ticketed shots before Clarkson rushed in to tap John Pickburn's long relay to the back of the net.

Four minutes later centre half Wally Milligan showed a great turn of speed to work the ball in close conjunction with outside Clarke and Cedric Robb. Robb's neat header just grazed the post but Clarkson was on the spot to snap in the rebound.

COMMANDING LEAD

Five minutes before half time Milligan took the ball in close, crossed in front of the goal to put the defense over and then deftly laid the ball back to Robb, who made no mistake with a quick shot, giving United a 3-0 lead.

Whether by design or necessity, United played defensive football in the second half and in the late minutes of the game had almost the entire team packed into the area behind the 25-yard line.

Whittaker picked up the first North Shore goal after 11 minutes of the second half when he stole the ball from a United player and headed a soft shot past Bill McAllister.

Left winger Bruce Ashdown made it too close for comfort when he scored with a wicked ground shot through a forest of legs at the 41-minute mark.

McAllister and the United defense had to be at their best in the action-packed last four minutes as North Shore made a frenzied effort to score the tying goal.

McAllister made several spectacular saves and the defense aided him by rushing the North Shore forwards to hold on wearily until the final whistle.

HATTEN SOLD

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP)—Chicago Cubs today announced the outright sale of pitcher Joe Hatten to the Los Angeles farm team in the Pacific Coast League.

BRUCE HOPKINS TAKES CITY JUNIOR TEE TITLE

Bruce Hopkins of Oak Bay captured the city junior golf championship at Gorge Vale Sunday with a 36-hole score of 161.

Runner-up was Mel Carlow of Gorge Vale with 164. A. Bayliss of Gorge Vale took low net honors with 133. R. Chappell, low net for the first 18 with 63, and W. Williams, M. Carlow and R. Napper tied for low net on the second 18 with 71's.

Prizes were presented by Frank Thomas, one of the city's leading golfers of a few years ago.

FAIRFIELD, CITY CENTRE WIN

Minor Baseball Champs Named

Fairfield and City Centre Two are the minor baseball champions of Victoria.

They gained this signal honor Sunday at Athletic Park in the juvenile and midget playoffs of the Victoria Amateur Baseball Association.

Fairfield whipped Eagles, 14-8 in the juvenile final, while City Centre Two downed Saanich 14-6 in the midget championship game.

McLEAN IN FORM

Pitching for Fairfield, Roy McLean was the home show for his club as he set Eagles down with six hits and racked up 13 strikeouts.

In the hitting department, teammates George Robinson and Bob Dewar found the professional ball park to their liking as they picked up four hits each.

A crowd of over 200 saw both games.

Association president Wally Thompson announced this morning that City Centre Two and Fairfield will meet the respective league winners from the Sidney League.

Winners of these games will be crowned lower Island minor champions. Dates have not yet been set for the games.

Wenger Cup Champion

Mrs. A. Stewart of Burnside Bowling Club retained the Vancouver Island women's lawn bowling championship Saturday in the annual Wenger Cup competition by defeating Mrs. K. Schmeltz of Canadian Pacific in the final at Burnside greens.

Canadians Beaten

BISLEY, Eng., July 7 (Reuters).—South Africa beat Canada in a close match Saturday for the British Dominion Trophy in the Bisley small-bore rifle meeting, it was announced last night.

South Africa scored 1,554 points and Canada 1,549 out of a possible 1,600.

'FANTASTIC' SAYS ROWELL

VANCOUVER, July 7 (CP)—British Columbia's second-in-command of track and field said Sunday the exclusion of Jack Burney of Vancouver from Canada's Olympic team is "fantastic."

Fred Rowell, B.C. representative to the Olympic track and field section committee, said Burney this year had beaten one of the United States' Olympic 400-metre hurdlers.

"Burney was Canada's great potential point-getter in track and field at the Olympics," Rowell said.

IOWA COLORED GHOSTS MEET MILLMEN TONIGHT

If it's entertainment you're looking for, the stage is set on the upper diamond at Central Park.

The famous Iowa Colored Ghosts appear here tonight and Tuesday against B.C. Forest Products and Chinese Students respectively.

The Ghosts were here last year and provided no end of entertainment along with top-notch softball technique, and the bumper crowds that witnessed the series are still talking about their famous "shadow ball" act. Games start at 6.45.

Millmen Trip Loop Leaders

Forest Products 5, Pitzer & Nex 4

Barry Jackson of Pitzer & Nex was shelled from the mound for the second game in succession Sunday afternoon at Central Park, as the Forest Products scored five times in the first two innings, held on to win 5-4 and took over second place in the Senior A Men's Softball League.

Jackson was reached for two runs in the first inning and, after giving up three hits and a walk to start the second frame, was derailed.

Ken Gunter went in as relief pitcher but after throwing his last warm-up toss wrenched his right thigh muscle and was forced to retire.

George Kinch replaced Gunter and the wrong-hander put a damper on the millmen during the remainder of the game.

Kinch came on with runners on first and second and struck out Don Hendry for the first out. Charlie Sansbury lined a hit to left field and the runner scored when catcher Les Wilson dropped the ball after a collision at home plate.

IN COMPLETE COMMAND
 Except for the fourth inning when Jeff Worrall singled and was caught out by the millmen, Kinch was in complete command.

He was forced to retire after stopping a wicked line drive from Les Wilson in the sixth.

Guest was still ahead when he went out and coach Bud Ross came in to preserve the win, although he was in trouble every inning.

GASMEN WIN TOURNEY
 Pitzer & Nex picked up a big win over the week-end at Lady-smith, when they defeated Lady-smith in the final game of the annual Lions' club tournament.

8-3, before one of the largest crowds ever to witness a game at the up-island centre.

Kinch was again the big man in that game, although he received a helping hand from the booming bat of Ab Wiebe. Kinch struck out 15 and had a no-hitter until the eighth inning. Wiebe cracked out a tremendous home run to lead the assault.

League play is suspended until Thursday night due to two exhibition games being played in the park tonight and Tuesday.

Shantz Lost To A.L. Stars

Forced to Retire as Yanks Split Twin Bill With A's

It looks as though the pitchers are in for a tough time in the major league's 19th all-star game at Philadelphia Tuesday.

Five of the 12 pitchers on the dream squads saw action Sunday in the final games before the mid-summer classic—and all were beaten. The sluggers, on the other hand, came through with flying colors.

The American League, suffered the biggest blow when Bobby Shantz, the scale-model left-hander of Philadelphia Athletics, was forced to retire after four innings because of a muscle pain across his chest in the first game of a doubleheader against the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Shantz, the major's top winner with 14, was counted on to start against the National Leaguers, Cleveland's Bob Lerner, on now may draw the assignment.

McDUGALD CLOUTS WELL
 The Yanks clipped Shantz for four runs during his stay and went on to defeat the A's 5-2. All-stars Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle led the Yank drive with home runs.

Philadelphia bounced back to win the second game, 7-6, scoring the winning run with two out in the ninth inning when Ferris Fain doubled home his all-star teammate Eddie Joost.

Fain collected five hits during the twin-bill to extend his hitting streak to 21 games. Fain, the league's top hitter, takes the highest batting mark, .336, into the all-star game.

RETAIN THREE-GAME EDGE
 The split enabled the Yanks to retain their three-game lead. Chicago White Sox took over second place from Cleveland, edging the Indians, 3-2, in 13 innings on all-star Minnie Miñoso's homer. All-star Mike Garcia was the losing pitcher.

Washington Senators clung to fourth place, beating the fifth-place Boston Red Sox, 5-2, and Detroit Tigers came from behind to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 8-6.

Brooklyn opened a 4½-game lead in the National League, trouncing Boston Braves, 8-2. Giants divided with Philadelphia while the second-place New York Yankees won the first game, 2-0, but losing the second, 4-1.

CARDS COMING
 The torrid third-place St. Louis Cardinals ran their winning streak to nine games by sweeping a pair of games from Pittsburgh, 6-5 and 6-4. The fourth-place Chicago Cubs took two from Cincinnati 5-1 and 2-0.

Gallant R.C.A.F. Nurse Makes Paracnute Jump To Aid Rescue of Injured Youth in Wilderness

VANCOUVER, July 7 (CP)—A 100-pound R.C.A.F. nurse, loaded down with 60 pounds of medical equipment, dangled helplessly for three hours in her parachute shrouds 100 feet above ground before she was able to complete her rescue mission.

Nursing Sister Grace Woodman dropped from a rescue plane Saturday, together with an R.C.A.F. doctor and a veteran para-rescue man, to aid a youth who had been seriously injured in the wild Pitt Lake country, where 20 men have perished seeking a legendary gold mine.

Surveyor Joe Chamberlain, 26, staggered out of the bush early Saturday to bring word of his companion's injury in a roaring snowslide.

The injured youth was Ken Northcote, 20, of Mission, B.C.

A helicopter snatched him to safety late Sunday and he now is reported in fairly good condition in hospital here.

Northcote, Chamberlain and Martin Christie were on Mount Coquitlam Friday when a snowslide grabbed Northcote and spun him 600 feet down to a ledge on the 2,800-foot level of the mountain.

UNABLE TO MOVE

His back injured, possibly fractured, Northcote was unable to move. The two men stayed with Northcote throughout the night and at dawn Chamberlain struck out alone toward civilization.

Chamberlain made it, 10 hours later. A telephone call to the R.C.A.F. in Vancouver started the rescue operation.

After Northcote's position was pinpointed, Nursing Sister Woodman hit the silk with Sqdn. Ldr. Dick Wynn, an R.C.A.F. doctor, and Sgt. Red Jamieson, a para-rescue veteran.

Wynn and Jamieson landed without mishap and found Northcote after an hour's scrambling over rock and bush.

HANGING FROM TREE

Miss Woodman? She was hanging from a tree by her parachute. She stayed there for three hours before freeing herself and sliding to the ground.

ARLEY, Eng. (CP)—Desmond Evans' favorite calf strayed on a railway track and fell under a slow-moving train, where it became stuck. After unsuccessful attempts to free the calf, the train slowly started up again and the calf was rescued, unhurt.

on a "rope" fashioned from parachute shrouds.

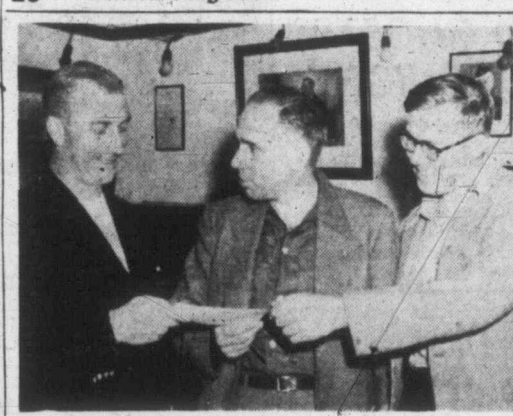

It was nearly 12 hours before she made contact with the other members of the party, lugging 60 pounds of medical equipment.

A U.S. Coast Guard helicopter carried out the rescue, landing half a mile from the camp, only 45 miles northeast of Vancouver. It took Wynn and Jamieson four hours to carry Northcote on a stretcher over a 500-foot ridge from the camp to the copter.

So far Miss Woodman, exhausted, hasn't told her story. Chamberlain, for one, was open-mouthed at her exploit.

"I was in the plane when they jumped," he said. "That nurse sure had a lot of nerve to jump into that country. I wouldn't like to try it. I didn't do anything much. But that nurse, I was glad to hear she got out O.K."

Week-End Violent Death Toll in Province at Nine

VANCOUVER, July 7 (CP)—Three double-death traffic accidents Sunday increased British Columbia's week-end violent death toll to nine.

Five persons met death in similar circumstances in three different accidents.

Mrs. Claire Wostock, 31, and Earl Edgerton, 23, engaged to be married next Saturday, were killed when their car careened off the highway at nearby Ladner and into a water-filled ditch. Mrs. Wostock became a widow last fall when her husband was killed in a Vancouver traffic accident.

Alvin Newman, 18, and Sandra Charcroft, 14, perished when their car plunged off the road at nearby Steveston, down a 10-foot bank and into 14 feet of water.

William Radcliffe, 32, died when his car went out of control and plunged into the Fraser River at suburban Lulu Island.

Two men were killed when their automobile rolled off the Big Bend highway near Golden. Their names were not immediately available. One was believed from Port Alberni, the other from Creston.

P. Cullen, a greaser aboard the British freighter Sherborne, berthed at North Vancouver, died after a fall from the ship's gangplank and Helmut Hoffman, 27, was drowned at Quesnel.

HOUSE LOSES COLORFUL POLITICOS;
HIGH HOPES HELD FOR NEW MEMBERS

By GORDON FORBES

British Columbia's new legislature will be lacking a lot of the colorful politicians which made this province's robust political scene the subject of varied comment across Canada.

Most of these colorful, once-powerful figures have gone down to defeat at the hands of an electorate apparently fed up with the old-line parties.

But the lack of color among the politicians will only be a temporary situation. Politics has a way of bringing out this so-called "color" in men.

The legislature, of course, still has the ever-fertile C.C.F. leader Harold Winch, crusading W. A. C. Bennett, South Okanagan Social Credit; fun-loving Laborite Tom Uphill of Fernie; peppy E. T. Kenney, Skeena, genial E. C. Carson, Lillooet, and Victor's hard-working W. T. Straith, gracious Nancy Hodges and beaming "Cappy" Proudfoot.

These have all been elected already, and other former members undoubtedly will be re-elected before the counting is completed.

But the legislature will be without once-powerful "Boss" Johnson, the man who was elevated from backbencher to premier almost overnight. He will return to his successful business career.

He was the 24th premier since Confederation, and the third native son in that high office.

Mr. Johnson was first elected in Victoria in 1933, and became Liberal leader in 1947, beating out Gordon Wismer by a scant eight votes in a never-to-be-forgotten convention. In June, 1949,

Ministers Resume Former Jobs

Neat, methodical Les Eyres was calm in the House until some member began criticizing his department's expenditures. That would blow him up. At the last session, although not a minister, then, he went to bat for his old

B.C. Unlikely
To Prosecute
Woodworkers

Despite Premier Byron Johnson's statement Saturday that the three-week-old woodworkers' strike is illegal, indications are the government does not plan to prosecute the International Woodworkers of America.

The operators, it is understood, believe the government should take legal action, but Premier Johnson apparently contends this should be initiated by employers. The operators would need permission from the Labor Relations Board to prosecute.

It has been hinted strongly the board would not hesitate to grant permission.

Premier Johnson refused to make a personal appeal to the union to resume negotiations because, he said, that would be conceding "the breaking or flaunting of our laws."

C.C.F. leader Harold Winch said in Vancouver he is prepared to act as a mediator in the strike if he wins the premiership.

I.W.A. union leaders were meeting in Vancouver today and President Stewart Alsbury said the union would not tolerate stalling by employers on holiday pay for strikers. He said some employers had moved to stop pay and that the labor department had been asked for a ruling.

On Vancouver Island there will be a partial resumption of work in the woods Tuesday as some I.W.A. work crews start on a wood-cutting project.

Employers and union leaders reportedly have agreed to allow limited operation to ease the fuel shortage in the Alberni district and provide work for the men.

Ash May Ask
Re-Count in His Riding

Saanich Liberal candidate Arthur Ash, defeated by C.C.F. Frank Snowsall by only 198 votes, may ask for a recount.

Mr. Ash today is considering the move, and will make a decision shortly. He has eight days to make the request under Elections Act regulations.

The recount would have to be before a judge of the County Court, and it is understood the candidate must bear the expense of the recount.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

A real estate man who is a regular follower of the weekly chronicles of our Vic Peeps believes this erudite, though somewhat cocky, gentleman has the solution to the housing problem.

"With so many rheums," he says, "surely Vic must have a few to rent."

The great Republican circus opens today, with fanfares, foolery, and, no doubt, fist-fights.

To me, the presidential nominating conventions are the most fascinating shows on earth. No matter what your opinion of the American version of democracy in action, you must admit that American politicians make more noise and have more fun than anybody.

There! I went and did it again.

I am forever quarrelling with people who use the adjective "American" as though it belonged exclusively to the United States.

But habit is hard to overcome. And it is so often simpler to say "American" than "United States."

For instance, the other side-of Juan de Fuca Strait is referred to by nearly everyone—from historians to plain citizens—as the American shore.

Well, it IS the American shore. But so is this, the Canadian side.

And people and places from the tip of Chile to the peak of Alaska are all equally American.

I wish someone would supply a good word to describe United States American.

Any suggestions will be gratefully received.

The radio column notes: "Jack Short's realistic descriptions of the raving at Vancouver comes over CJOR at 10.15."

Jack Short's style is certainly fast and enthusiastic, but isn't "raving" going a bit too far?

Billy Tickle has an exceptionally keen ear for music.

The other day he was lunching with another musician, when a waiter dropped a tray of dishes.

"What's that?" cried his startled companion.

"Dunno," said Billy, continuing his lunch. "But it sounded like B Flat."

They are tearing down the old Union Station in Toronto and what do you think they found the other day?

Several railway flat cars.

They had been lost for years.

All I can say is, what a nonchalant way to run a railroad.

SHIPS AND MEN

Strike-Bound Wharf
In Pall of Silence

By MONTE ROBERTS, Times Marine Editor

The wind flicked bright white spindrift from the startling blue water inside the breakwater, and a pair of gulls wheeled overhead, their cries sharp and lonely.

Alongside the dock, a single freighter lay quiescent, rubbing her rusty sides gently against the buffer logs.

Within the long, nearly-empty freight sheds, footsteps echoed, the only sound to break the silence.

No lumber carrier roared at breakneck speed, no winch clattered; no cargo boom creaked.

This is Ogden Point today, strike-bound and idle, the 120 longshoremen who have built up a reputation as the best on the continent taking a holiday while the I.W.A. and the operators battle it out.

In all the ports of Vancouver Island, only two deep-water ships waited out the strike.

At Ogden Point is the Greek Phaeax II, caught here on June 16 as the strike opened.

Anchored in the stream at Alberni is the Britisher, Alcione Hope. Neither ship has been able to book non-lumber cargo; like approximately 30 more in mainland ports, they are "waiting it out."

COSTLY TIE-UP

An idle ship is an expensive ship for the owner. Docking charges alone for Phaeax, for instance, are about $130 a day; it is likely each idle ship is draining her owner's coffers at the rate of $1,000 a day.

The longshoremen who work

Victoria, Cowichan Bay and Chemainus aren't complaining. They are union men, and a strike is a strike. But if they hope for a speedy solution, they can't be blamed.

There isn't enough work provided by general cargo ships to keep them even partially busy. For instance, Pacific Reliance is due here Thursday—and will be the only ship worked at the Point this week, discharging about 200 tons of cargo.

So Ogden Point is a lonely place, a sad place, anxious to go to work again.

City Horticulturist John Naysmith Dies

John Naysmith, 73, prominent city horticulturist, died Sunday after 40 years of residence here.

A native of Scotland, he was well known for the horticultural exhibits he prepared for the city for exhibition here and in Vancouver.

Surviving are his wife, at home; two daughters, Mrs. R. B. Simm, Victoria, and Mrs. N. J. Magraw, Seattle; four sons, James, in Portland; John, Victoria; William, Toronto; and David, serving with the R.C.N.

Funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at McCall Bros.

Dollar's
High Rate
HeadacheMerchants May
Charge Premium

News that the Canadian dollar was at an all-time high today at $1.04½ beside the U.S. dollar, was generally heartening to Canadians. But in Victoria there was considerable concern among merchants who, until now, have been accepting American tourist dollars at par.

General opinion of store managers was the time has come to revise their policy and begin to collect the extra pennies required to bring the U.S. dollar up to the worth of a Canadian bill.

The small, independent shops, however, seemed reluctant to make the change by themselves. They are looking for guidance from the larger department stores and the Chamber of Commerce.

The department stores have accepted U.S. money at par but have endeavored to give U.S. currency in change whenever American funds have been offered.

WATCH NEIGHBORS

Department store executives here admitted today they were considering a policy revision, and one of two indicated whatever Vancouver stores decide will be applied here.

More than one merchandiser thought he would be able to carry on giving dollar-for-dollar service until the U.S. bill was discounted 5 per cent.

A leading clothier, who caters to the visitor trade, recognized a need for getting away from the "par" policy but thought shops could meet the Americans half-way by only charging 2½ per cent when the bank premium rate is five.

The Chamber of Commerce is making a survey of its merchant members with a view to formulating a policy.

TIMES CHANGE

The chamber some time ago recommended that as a means of promoting goodwill to Americans, local shops should accept the U.S. dollar at par so long as it was not being discounted more than three per cent.

Chamber president Tom Denny has given indication, though, that the trade group will recommend stores revert to using the bank rate of exchange to the nearest half cent.

He cited instances when the financial balance was reversed and the Canadian dollar was discounted five per cent by banks.

Some American stores were calling for a ten per cent premium on Canadian currency, then.

"We want to be sure that doesn't happen here," he said "it is just sort of thing which angers people."

AUDIENCE OF TEACHERS

Pupils to Present Plays

BY AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Provincial Summer School authorities, this year, have arranged to entertain their upwards of 1,700 teachers from all parts of British Columbia with the largest and most varied roster of artists yet achieved in the history of the sessions.

Sixteen morning programs and two evenings of short plays by local groups are scheduled. A limited public can be accommodated at the morning sessions. For the dramatic evenings, the doors are wide open to anyone interested. There will be a small admission charge.

The first program of plays will be presented tonight in Victoria High School auditorium by students of Greater Victoria Schools.

HEAT RECORD
SET SUNDAY;
WARMER TODAY

Victoria's official thermometer reached a new high for 1952 on Sunday when it climbed to 75 degrees.

That record was expected to be broken this afternoon, when a maximum of 80 degrees was expected.

"I also predict a few acres of sunburn," said weatherman Ken Harry, Vancouver, substituting for William Mackie at the city weather office while the latter is on holiday.

There were many sore backs in the city today, as bathers crowded Vancouver Island beaches Sunday from Qualicum Beach south to enjoy the first real summer day.

Skies will be clear on Tuesday, Mr. Harry said, with temperatures ranging between 54 and 76 degrees.

Cathedral Staff
Member Retiring

Consultant for Christ Church Cathedral's building plans for the past five months, Canon E. P. Laycock, will return to England Thursday with his wife.

A former Archdeacon of Columbia, he will remain an honorary consultant in the cathedral's planning and building activities. During his stay here he worked with the late J. C. M. Keith, Cathedral architect.

His destination in England is Southborough, Kent, where he will remain in retirement.

GOOD MAJORITIES

Never headed from the outset of counting, the three Liberal candidates made a clean sweep of the capital city riding in the marathon provincial election.

Mrs. Hodges, W. T. Straith and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot all came through with sizeable majorities, making Victoria one of the last Liberal strongholds.

Mr. Straith, the first elected, won on the third count, polling 11,762 votes compared to his nearest rival C.C.F.-er Mrs. Mary Campbell's 8,511.

Mrs. Hodges, elected on the fourth count, received 12,071 votes compared to 8,421 collected by William Caird, C.C.F., her nearest opponent.

PULLED AHEAD

Capt. Proudfoot, who was being crowded by C.C.F.-er Colin Cameron on the third count, pulled away on the fourth count when P.C. Albert McPhillips' supporters' second choices were distributed.

The Liberal candidate received 2,606 of the second choices compared to Mr. Cameron's 809.

Capt. Proudfoot ended up with 11,057 votes and Mr. Cameron, 8,902.

Returning Officer Alan Macfarlane's counting team, which was roundly praised for its speed and efficiency, today is checking over plebiscite votes.

Meet 'Twisty' the Doll You Can Tie in Knots

By PENNY SAVER

Have you met "Twisty?" You haven't! Shame on you! Granted, she hasn't been here very long, but it won't be long before you and everybody else is raving about "Twisty," the doll.

"Twisty" is made of a relatively new composition called "baby skin."

This little lady lives up to her name. You can practically tie her in knots. She'll sit, bend, crawl, her arms and legs double up and her head will turn in a complete circle.

"Twisty" is not a cry-baby. She coos. That's right, when you squeeze her, or put her on her back, she coos, instead of letting a whine escape.

Another added feature about this type of doll is that the baby skin can be washed and "Twisty" is pretty as a picture again.

The new addition to your family costs $3.29.

Boy, oh boy! If it's novel china that you want, this is your buy.

Scenes from the old homestead have been portrayed on a 20-piece breakfast set which also sells as open stock. The set sells at $9.95 and individual pieces sell very reasonably.

Some of the scenes are: An old-fashioned cradle, a spinning wheel, the fireside, just to name a few.

If you happen to have a colonial style home this china was made to order.

Lovers of the works of Shakespeare will want to know about this set of china.

It can also be obtained in a breakfast set as well as a dinner set. The 20-piece set sells for $9.50 and imprinted on each piece is a scene from Shakespeare.

The colorful and rich-looking china would be an asset to any household and not an expensive addition either.

Victorian scenes have also been captured on china to create an eye-catching breakfast set. The scenes and border are of a delicate grey-blue shade on basic white.

Each plate has a different scene on it and each one is named. For a really different looking china, this is it!

WHY GROW OLD?

Here's Some Welcome News Seven Ways to Keep Cool

Whew! Today I am going to write a column about how to keep cool in the summertime. While writing it I would really like to be lying in a hammock, with someone to fan me, and with ice-cold water dripping over my feet. I hate hot weather so much that sometimes in icy weather I let one foot hang out from under the covers just to be sure it really is cold. Probably the best advice would be to take a dip in a spring-fed lake or sit by an air-conditioner. However, this is not possible for many of us and there are some other things we can do which are helpful.

Here are a few:

1. If you find stockings hot try painting makeup on your legs.

2. Wear a lightweight summer girdle. This can make a great difference.

3. Bubble baths are very cooling. So are cool showers.

4. Have your hair short for the hot season or sweep it up off of your neck. You will look more attractively cool and you will certainly feel cooler.

5. Cut down on the energy and heat foods (carbohydrates). Eat less very rich fatty food and more lean meat, fresh fruits and green and yellow vegetables.

6. Lose that extra weight. When you are overweight you are really wearing an inner lining.

7. Nothing is more cooling than exercise. After a workout during which you work up a good perspiration, you will feel cool for hours. The exercise should be followed by a warm shower or bath and then by a cool one. This is really a fact. Try it and see.

Knights of Malta Chapter Scene of Wedding in Rome

A wedding of interest to many Victorians took place on Saturday in Rome, Italy, between Rosalind Marjorie Hanna and Dr. Valerio Brigante Colonna in the Chapel of the Knights of the Order of Malta.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. C. E. Morriss, Victoria, and the late Robert William Hanna of Belfast, Ireland, graduated from Queen Margaret's School, Duncan, in 1942. After doing war work with the V.M.D. and Boeing Aircraft in Victoria she went to Washington, D.C. in 1945 to take a position with the British Food Mission. In 1947 she joined the staff of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations and transferred to Rome with that organization in the spring of last year.

The bridegroom is the younger son of Count and Countess Gustavo Brigante Colonna and is in the Italian Diplomatic Service. He has recently been appointed vice-consul at Benghazi, Libya.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gown of ivory satin with full bouffant skirt and matching short fitted jacket with high neck and long sleeves. Her veil was of beautiful Florentine lace and she carried a bouquet of pale yellow tea roses, lily of the valley and trailing white jasmine. Mr. Fergus Fitz Gerald, cousin of the bride, gave her away, and Miss Mariolina Guarini acted as maid of honor, wearing a frock of flowered material in multiple pastel shades with white accessories and carrying deep red carnations.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Morriss, who left Victoria early in May to attend her daughter's wedding, wore a suit of navy and white shantung silk.

The reception for about 80 guests was held in the gardens of the Knights of Malta adjoining the church.

After a honeymoon spent in the Mediterranean the young couple will take up residence in Benghazi.

Dancing at Empress Hotel

Musical stylings of Billy Tickle and his Empress Hotel orchestra matched the holiday mood of guests at the Saturday night supper dance.

Many smaller parties and a number of Americans in town over the Independence Day week-end were noted.

Adding to the holiday atmosphere were the gay summer frocks—mostly street length of the feminine guests. Dress-up cottons and linens in pastel hues vied with printed silks and the always popular black and navy blue.

Among the larger no-host parties was that of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Monk who were with Mr. and Mrs. John Riddell, Mr. and Mrs. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson and Mrs. Robert Ferguson Sr.

At a table for four were Dr. B. E. Cragg and Mrs. Cragg and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. M. Wilson. Another foursome were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Roy and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Peterson.

Among the many at tables for two, were Mr. and Mrs. F. Ranson. Others reserving for two included R. F. Vincent, H. Menzie, H. Case, J. A. Gibbs, S. P. Goldman, Oscar Carlson, L. G. Riecke, T. Hutchinson, H. H. Hath, H. Evans, W. Hutchinson, R. Biscione and D. J. McKenzie.

Making reservations for four were P. R. Hunt, A. P. Carmen, J. S. Wells, A. C. Platz, H. E. Thiesen and J. Pettison.

Maud Wallace Married In Vancouver Service

Of interest in this city is the wedding in Vancouver Saturday evening, which united Maud Vena Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wallace, Rithet Street, and Roger Charles Hall, son of Mrs. E. Hall, Vancouver.

Rev. E. H. Birdsall officiated at the service in West Point Grey Church which was decorated with standards of yellow gladioli. Nosegays of white asters marked the guest pews.

Mr. Wallace gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a ballerina-length gown of white net over rustling taffeta. The strapless bodice of Chantilly lace extended into puffed inserts in the bouffant skirt, and the bride's shoulder-length veil misted from a lace and net tulle touched with mother of pearl flowers. Pink bridal roses and white larkspur created the colonial bouquet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Lomas, Victoria, was gowned in pale green net over taffeta fashioned with a ballerina-length skirt and off-the-shoulder neckline topped with a bolero. She carried a bouquet of salmon pink roses with a matching bandeau in her hair.

Elizabeth Odynsky, flower girl from Victoria, wore a short dress of pale blue taffeta with crinoline skirt. The dress was appliqued with deep blue velvet roses and she carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Neville Hall, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Kenneth and Norman Dawson. Allan Graham was escort for the groom's mother.

At the reception in the Masonic Hall, roses, snapdragons and carnations in red, white and blue offered a colorful note. Peter Odynsky, Victoria, brother-in-law of the bride, proposed the toast.

Upon leaving for her honeymoon in Banff, the bride donned a navy blue dressmaker suit with navy and white accessories and a gardenia corsage. She topped her ensemble with an oyster-white coat complemented with a navy straw hat.

The newlyweds will make their home in Vancouver.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional bridal gown of ivory satin with sweetheart neckline and lily-point sleeves. Tiers of ruffles created a bustle at the back while the front of the skirt was touched with a panel of ruffles extending to the hemline.

In fair condition in Vancouver General Hospital today are Nisto Raffin of Mitchell, B.C., and Patrick Kelly, both 22.

CANADIAN TV POLICY CRITICIZED

WINDSOR, Ont., July 7 (BUP)—A spokesman for the American Federation of Radio Artists has expressed concern over the Canadian government's television policy.

A statement has been issued by Terence O'Dell, the A.F. of L. group's resident agent in Canada.

O'Dell says Revenue Minister J. M. McCann's announcement in the House of Commons that privately-owned television stations will not be licensed under a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation TV station is established in every province will sadly effect Canadian radio artists.

O'Dell says this will have the effect of depriving Canadian talent in most regions of all opportunities of gaining experience and a livelihood in this new medium.

Totem Carver Target of Camera Contingent

Most photographed man in Victoria these days, is 70-year-old Mungo Martin.

Mr. Martin is the Kwakiutl Indian who has taken on the king-sized job of reproducing all the totem poles and Indians carvings at Thunderbird Park, which, because of age, are in an advanced stage of rot and disintegration.

At the moment Mr. Martin is putting the finishing touches to a new Haida whale and eagle. When the two pieces are fitted together the eagle will be riding the whale's back.

The figure will look new to Victorians since the old whale now in the park is minus the eagle. It was broken off and lost long before the carving was brought to this city.

The original whale, according to Mr. Martin, is 110 years old. It is badly decayed.

Mr. Martin has three years work ahead of him and while he is at present working outdoors, workmen are erecting a Haida-style house in the park which will serve as his workshop when the winter comes.

Mr. Martin, who hales from Fort Rupert, likes Victoria but confesses a lot of his time right now is taken up answering questions of interested and inquisitive tourists.

$10,000 FOR BETTER TRAP

ALBANY, N.Y., July 7 (AP)—The American Humane Association wants a better mousetrap—and it is willing to pay $10,000 for one.

The association, a federation of more than 600 local societies for protection of animals and children, Saturday increased to $10,000 its offer of a reward for a small animal trap that it would consider "humane."

The previous offer was $500. Mel L. Morse, executive director, said the reward was offered to spur inventors to find a substitute for the steel traps now commonly used, which he called cruel.

BRIGHTON, Eng. (CP)—Fishermen caught four thresher sharks in a drift net off this Sussex resort. While harmless, this type of small shark frequently frightens bathers on the English coast.

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1952—1974 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: A flow of moist air across the north coast is bringing cloudiness and a few showers to that area and to the northern interior. Sisters Plan Expansion of Home for Aged

Sisters of the Love of Jesus, now maintaining a 35-bed home for aged persons at Colwood, have plans for increasing facilities at the site over the next five years to provide a 200-bed hospital and a 100-bed home for the aged.

The order intends, as well, to provide small cottages for elderly people who prefer to do their own housekeeping.

The sisters have taken over the old Colwood clubhouse and hope to add the first new wing to the building in the fall.

It is estimated cost of completing the project as planned will be in the neighborhood of $1,500,000.

Rev. Mother Cecilia Mary, founder and head of the order, and the 20 or so sisters who constitute the entire membership are helping to raise funds for the building by operating two gift shops, selling bedding plants, providing a laundry service and by catering for receptions and garden parties.

J. Cook President Of Metal Workers

The Victoria Sheet Metal Workers' Union, Local 276 (I.L.C.A.F.), has elected J. A. Cook as its president for the forthcoming year.

Hugh Weydert has been made vice-president; John Quissey, secretary, and Charles Lewis, financial secretary.

Members of the executive board are M. A. Scott, R. Richards and L. W. Creighton. Trustees are George Panter, J. Boughey and Len Bath. Max is warden and K. Dodsworth, conductor.

Revive Bather

Reginald C. Thurber, 32, of 1543 Pearl, was revived by a Saanich fire department resuscitator crew at noon Sunday when he collapsed while swimming.

He was taken home after being attended by Dr. E. L. McNiven. Saanich police reported a flurry of minor accidents but no injuries.

Free Food for 43 Families

Forty-three families were helped with food from the surplus food stall in the public market Saturday, reported Mrs. Barbara Green, the stall's originator and operator.

"More could have been helped if more cards had been distributed," she said, adding 110 cards were given out to agencies for distribution.

Mrs. Green said "tons of food" were distributed at the stall's first opening day this season. Most of it, she said, was donated by the wholesalers. Surplus at the end of the day was sent in two large crates to the Salvation Army.

opened one day a month until December was expressed by Mrs. Green. She said she hopes a service club or other organization will take over running the stall on a one-day basis so that it can be opened more frequently.

Mrs. Green lauded the efforts of all volunteer workers including the Girl Guides and Royal Arcanum.

A big need of stall workers she said is a typewriter to facilitate paper work.

U.S. Queen Shatters Atlantic Record

Averaging 35.59 knots the 53,000-ton liner United States today arrived at Southampton after cracking all trans-Atlantic crossing records. The new American liner chopped 10 hours and two minutes off the British liner Queen Mary's record established in 1938. (See stories, Page 2.)

Republicans' Bitterest Meet in 40 Years Opens

Compiled from C.F., A.P., U.P. Dispatches

CHICAGO, Ill., July 7.—Although Chicago's weather recorded a blistering 100, 12,000 delegates, torn with emotion, jam-packed the convention hall here today at what was shaping up to be the hottest Republican party convention in 40 years.

Fanning the sparks were:

1. The fight between Ohio's Sen. Robert Taft and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination.

2. Bitterness engendered through Eisenhower forces claim that pro-Taft delegates were engineered.

3. Pennsylvania's crucial delegation, in the first direct test of sentiment, voted today to cast 57 votes in support of the Eisenhower-backed move to amend the rules of the Republican convention on delegate credentials. Only 11 delegates lined up against the proposal.

Meanwhile:

1. Senator Taft, cool, smiling and confident, has told reporters that he has the necessary pledged delegates to win—604—and some to spare;

2. General Eisenhower, on the other hand, was on record as

HOLIDAY WEEK-END ACCIDENT DEATH TOLL IN U.S. OVER 600

CHICAGO, July 7 (AP)—More than 600 Americans died violent deaths during the four-day Independence Day week-end. The toll was far from a record for a holiday week-end.

Traffic accidents took 346 lives—far short of the 430 the National Safety Council had predicted and 17 less than the number who died on the highways during a similar 75-hour Memorial Day period.

But 185 drownings helped boost the total well beyond the Memorial Day figure of 510.

Deaths from miscellaneous accidents amounted to 69.

Four of July fireworks was blamed for two deaths.

not knowing how many delegates were pledged to him, and apparently not caring. He seemed to be depending on a swing of sentiment created by resentment at what he describes as old Republican machine tactics to keep delegates supporting him out of the voting positions in the convention hall.

3. As the convention opened the Associated Press tabulation credited Taft with 534 of the necessary 604 delegates and Eisenhower with 425.

As the convention got underway Guy Gabrielson, Republican National Committee chairman, called for a united party front to end what he called "the scandalous Democrat years."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the opening of the party's 25th national convention he said: "This will be a fair convention. The only steamroller in this amphitheatre will be the determined will of a majority of the 1,306 delegates. The chair will recognize any delegate who seeks recognition."

This was an obvious reference to charges which have spun out of the whirling fight for the Republican presidential nomination by chief rivals Taft and Eisenhower.

"But after this convention makes its decision," he added, "there can be no room for disunity in the Republican party. We must close ranks against the common foe."

Gabrielson said he found it unnecessary to attack the Democratic party because "the Democratic party has condemned itself by preaching peace and waging war; by waste and squandering of the people's money; by winking and blinking at the menace of Communism, and by shameful corruption of the federal government."

Other presidential candidates had little to hope for unless the senator and general knock each other out. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois; Gen. Douglas MacArthur, tonight's keynote speaker; Sen. William F. Knowland, the rising Republican star of the west, were dark horse entries favored in the betting over avowed candidates Warren and Harold E. Stassen.

Here are the latest counts in the two Vancouver ridings of Burrard and Point Grey where the issue will be settled whether the Social Credit Party or the C.C.F. will be called upon to form B.C.'s new government.

The C.C.F. Party, with 14 members elected, six leading, has a slight edge now over the Socreds, with 15 and two, but the close fight in these contests for five seats in the House may well change the picture.

The pattern of vote transfers in other ridings indicate the Socreds are almost certain to take the lead in one Burrard seat on the fourth count, and possibly in both. A fifth count will be needed for the final decision.

A two-seat victory for Socreds in Burrard will settle the issue, assuring them of 19 against the C.C.F.'s 18. But even if Socreds get only one Burrard seat they can still come out on top by taking the Point Grey seats away from two Conservatives now leading. The pattern of vote transfers indicate this is also a good possibility. It would give Socreds 20 and C.C.F. 19.

FINAL BULLETINS

Body Found Floating in River

OTTAWA, July 7 (CP)—A man's body was found floating in the Ottawa River—near the Parliament Buildings—today and police charged his drinking companion with murder.

Nanaimo Mill Scores I.W.A.

NANAIMO, B.C., July 7 (BUP)—Officials of the Eureka Sawmills Limited, which has the largest payroll in Nanaimo, today charged International Woodworkers' of America Union representatives with destroying its future.

The firm says lumber declared "hot" by the I.W.A. was delivered to the assembly dock and assigned to vessel for loading long before the current strike. The union has been notified the firm cannot continue to operate under what a spokesman called "such unfair treatment."

Well, at last the Yanks have set a speed record for gettin' to Europe.

Hansel and Gretel threw down crumbs so's they wouldn't get lost in the forest. Hansel and Harold are considerin' the same policy.

In politics, the "outs" are in—but at Kojé, Jackson and Guelph the "ins" seem to wanna get out.

CANADIAN $1 HITS 104 1-8 AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 7 (CP)—The Canadian dollar, moving closer to its all-time high, today was quoted at $1.04 1/8 in terms of United States currency.

The dollar, which has been rising steadily since last year, was quoted by foreign-exchange dealers as 9-16 cents higher than its close in New York last Thursday. The market was closed Friday and Saturday.

The all-time high of the Canadian dollar is $1.05 which it held briefly during a period of fluctuation in 1933.

Bankers generally agree that the climb is the result of heavy movement of capital from the United States into Canada.

Urge Charging Discount When Premium 5c

The Victoria Chamber of Commerce decided this afternoon it will recommend that merchants wait until banks discount the American dollar a full 5 per cent before charging U.S. visitors a discount on their currency.

Announcement was made by Hugh Francis, chairman of the chamber's retail merchants' section.

Mr. Francis acknowledged merchants might do as they pleased. The chamber's general policy was for the benefit of those desiring advice.

Lost in the fire were $500 worth of clothing owned by two of the girls.

Victims of the fire were Mary Nevard, 17; Donna Nelson, 19; Pat Atlee, 19; Joan Nevard, 20; Fran Morris, 19; and Mona de Moissac, 24.

They had rented the home from Mrs. Doris Cunningham for the month of July.

Two Canadians in Bisley Tie

BISLEY, Eng., July 7 (Reuters)—Two members of the Canadian rifle team will take part in a tie shoot Tuesday after dead heats in two of today's service rifle events.

In the "kneeling" competition, seven shots at 300 yards from a kneeling or sitting position, contender for medalist honors at press time today in the qualifying round of the B.C. Women's Close golf championship at Colwood Golf Club.

Although complete scores had not been posted, Mrs. Todd led the lead with a three-over-par 81. She toured the front nine in 41 and had a par 40 for the back nine in the afternoon round of the 18-hole medal qualifying round.

However, Mrs. Todd announced

Transfer of Votes Cutting C.C.F. Lead

Reports from Vancouver this afternoon were that with less than one-third of 'Conservatives' transferred votes counted, Social Credit candidates in Vancouver-Burrard had made substantial gains on the C.C.F. candidates leading for the two seats.

On A ballot the C.C.F. was only 261 votes ahead and on B ballot only 692.

When Conservative votes are finished the Liberal alternative choices will be counted and there is every chance that the two seats will swing from the C.C.F. to the Social Credit column and give that party the largest group in the new Legislature.

With the transfer of 75 of 256 polls completed, the standing was:

Vancouver-Burrard (Ballot A), 75 of 256 polls.
(Fourth count incomplete.)
Forester (L.), 6,647; McDonald (C.C.F.), 10,421; Martin (S.C.), 9,892. (Transfer of ballots: Gould, 343; MacNeil, 137; Price 614; exhausted, 485.)

Forester, 331; McDonald, 138; Martin, 215; exhausted, 450.)

Vancouver-Burrard (Ballot B), 75 of 256 polls.

(Third count incomplete.)
Gould (L.), 6,310; MacNeil (C.C.F.), 10,584; Price (S.C.), 9,892. (Transfer of ballots: Gould, 343; MacNeil, 137; Price 614; exhausted, 485.)

Socreds Aided by Transfers

The S.C.s have elected 15 members and lead in two seats. C.C.F. have elected 14 and lead in six, but the pattern of alternative vote transfers indicates the Social Credit Party is practically certain to make some gains as the counting progresses.

Only a slight switch will give the S.C.s the largest group, although not an overall majority. Vancouver-Burrard riding where S.C. candidates, running second, made gains on C.C.F. leaders in second and third counts, holds the key to the election.

In addition, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer has suggested that the six Liberals elected and the Conservatives (two elected, two leading) might form a "loose grouping" with the Social Credit to assure the continuance of government.

This would not be a Coalition. Social Credit would name all the Party standings in the B.C. election at press time:

Party	Elected	Leading
C.C.F.	14	6
Social Credit	15	2
Liberal	6	0
Conservative	2	2
Labor	1	0
Totals	38	10

Such appears to be the probable course the political picture will follow. It might continue for a year or two until some important changes were attempted by the government and Liberals could not support them, and would force an election by defeating the government.

However, it will be two, and possibly three weeks before the formal steps are taken. Premier Johnson's caretaker government will remain until then.

First the final counting of ballots must be completed in the huge Point Grey riding where over 52,000 votes were cast. This will take 10 days to two weeks. After that a legal period of 10 days is needed for recount applications before an official election result can be announced.

If the counting had been one-sided Premier Johnson would resign immediately, but because of the closeness of the fight between Socreds and C.C.F. he may not be in a position to make his recommendation until the last vote is counted in the last riding.

The latest seats decided were the three in Victoria where Liberals made a clean sweep and North Vancouver which went Liberal after alternative ballots had to be transferred six times. It was the only place in the province where this had to be done. Reeve M. E. Snowden of West Vancouver edged out Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, C.C.F., in the sixth count.

Meanwhile the political parties are making their individual plans for the future.

Both Liberal leader Johnson and Conservative leader Herbert Anscomb are expected to retire from politics to private life, though neither has made a formal announcement yet.

Leading Conservatives will meet in Vancouver to discuss their situation and Liberals are slated to meet here July 13.

Spotlight is on the Social Credit party which will choose its leader, and probable Premier, at a Vancouver meeting July 15.

Marg Todd Nears Medal Honors in B.C. Close

Mrs. Marjorie Todd, Victoria, that she would be unable to compete in match play because of personal reasons.

Defending champion Mrs. Babs Davies of Vancouver carded a 38-47—85, which at press time was second to Mrs. Todd.

Vancouver city champion Mrs. W. F. Knox trailed with 48-43—91. Miss Dorothy Herber and Miss Shirley Fry of Gorge Vale, who are playing off for the B.C. junior championship in conjunction with the B.C. Close tournament, finished in a tie with 86's.
